P. S. C. DECIDES FOR ENGINEERS

Orders O. and W. to Limit Speed of Freight Locomotives—Now Used on Milk Trains and Crews Complain Their Health is Impaired by Jarring.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Dec. 12.—(Special)—The public service commission, second district has directed the United States Railroad Administration and the Ontario & Western Railroad to limit the maximum speed of locomotives, known as the P and W type, to 35 miles an hour and a revision of operating schedules on trains, hauled by this class of engines, to a 30 mile an hour rate under normal conditions. Allowance is to be made in the revised schedule for detentions incurred at station stops, reductions in speed on ascending grades, slow orders and other physical conditions existing.

The types of engines coming under the order of the commission are of the consolidated type, with four pairs of driving wheels and a single engine truck, designed for hauling heavy freight trains. They have been used in milk train service.

Commissioner J. A. Kellogg, in a memorandum says it was satisfactorily established at the hearing on complaints by representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, that the engines were not adopted for operating at high rates of speed without discomfort to occupants of the cab and that the discomfort became so great at higher rates as to become an unnecessary hardship, in time resulting in injury to health of the engineer and perhaps to some extent interfere with his ability to quickly and unerringly grasp the various levers under his control and necessary for the proper operation of the engine. The speed on the ordinary run of the milk trains, it is held according to witnesses, develops in certain instances to as high as 45 and even 48 miles an hour. This condition is not a proper one, says Commissioner Kellogg, and should not be continued.

"If these engines are to be used in hauling these trains," the commissioner continues, "the schedule should be so altered as to permit the transaction of the ordinary business of the train and its movement between stations so that at no point shall its speed exceed 30 miles an hour at the maximum, except in emergency cases or where from unavoidable delays it is desired for short distances to accelerate the speed to 35 miles an hour to make up lost time. The latter speed, however, should never be exceeded, and even if permitted to operate at the speed suggested, the engines must be in good, first class condition. The operation of these engines at any higher rate of speed than that suggested would be detrimental to the health and efficiency of the engine employes."

Second Section of Big Dry Dock Launched at Island Dock Yard—Tremper Makes Last Trip of Season—Towing Still Brisk.

The second section of the big dry dock under construction by the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation on the Island Dock yard was successfully launched Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The dock will be built in eight sections, two of which have now been completed and launched. The sections in the water will be berthed off the Island Dock for the winter.

Thursday the steamer Jacob H. Tremper, of the Central-Hudson Line, running between Newburgh and Albany, made her last trip of the season. She will steam up from Newburgh Saturday to the Hillebrant shipyard, where she will be given an overhauling before being laid up for the winter, which she will spend in Newburgh.

The Central-Hudson Line still has two boats making daily trips between Kingston and New York, the steamers Newburgh and Poughkeepsie, and they will run until stopped by ice.

There is no indication as to when the Roslax season will be brought to a close. Considerable brick and coal are still being shipped from this port to down river points.

The weather has not been cold enough to freeze the river over, although the Rondout creek has been frozen over with a skim of ice.

Today a sleet storm enveloped the city making walking rather dangerous due to the slippery sidewalks.

Looking For Whiskey.

Three barrels of 102 proof whiskey valued at over $2,000 stolen from the Central New England Railroad while in transit from Lynchburgh Ohio, to Somerville, Mass., are being sought in Poughkeepsie by the Central New England detectives. Although they have a suspicion that they know where the whiskey is they have been unable to get any definite information about it as yet.

Addressed Poughkeepsie Club.

Harry H. Flemming of this city addressed the Poughkeepsie Rotary club Wednesday on the railroad situation. The address was very much appreciated, according to comments made by the Bridge City men.

PROTESTS HOME BUREAU REPULSE

In Matter of Appropriation by Supervisors—Writer Says Ulster is Only County to Refuse Aid, That Home Making is Foundation of Nation and That Women Voters Expect Different Treatment From Men.

To the Women of Ulster Co.

Dear Friends:—The Kingston Freeman of December 9 has just come to hand. I hope every woman will read the report from the Farm Bureau on page 8. I attended that meeting and will tell you a little of what I learned.

When I entered the room where the Home Bureau officers were seated around the table with Chester Young, all talking very earnestly with serious faces. As he was about to leave said, "Well, I don't know what they will do about it, but I'll stand by you." A little later our president left the room to attend a telephone call, came back very hurriedly, appointed a committee of three to go up to the court house to meet with the supervisors of our county who were in session there, I could not imagine what the trouble could be. I was so unsophisticated that I did not know that a committee had also met with the supervisors once before last week, begging that board to give an appropriation to the Home Bureau, they had given no assurance of complying with their request. Afterward the news came at the meeting "We had been turned down." The women, the home makers of Ulster county, the foundation of society. There were some supervisors in favor of our measure and said so at once.

I will copy a little from "The Extension Service News," from an address given by Prof. Burritt at the organization of the Home Bureau Federation at Ithaca in October, I think, "suggested that stress should be laid on the need of far better home making and improved household management, higher standards of rural living and equal economic opportunities, for women to shun politics and to maintain a non-partisan and non-political basis." That is what we believe is right. Now some milestones. "A year ago there were but five counties on other than a war emergency basis. Today there are twenty-five counties and two city Home Bureaus regularly organized, from college to communities, for service in developing better homes."

"A year ago there was a paid membership in but five counties; today there are over ten thousand women who have enlisted in the Home Bureau movement in New York state." "A year ago it was a question in most of the Home Bureaus as to whether the boards of supervisors would appropriate money for Home Bureau work. Today they have appropriated over thirty-five thousand dollars, as an evidence of the good will of the public toward this new field of public education that is pledged to enrich home and community life."

Ulster county is the only one who refused. Are you proud of it?

This is the second refusal.

"Some one has said that the nation is no stronger than its weakest home. For this reason the Home Bureau must take the making of that weakest home into an ideal one."

It is up to us women to help get this deficiency paid by getting more members in our society. Miss Stuart will be very glad to start new centers of activity if you let her know, for her enthusiasm is unbounded.

Don't forget we are taxpayers, have the right to vote, and will stand for the home every time whether it is "for God and home and native land in the W. C. T. U." or the regular way through the franchise. Ulster county must stand first among the onward workers, not backward.

In October there was an item in the New Paltz Independent "that the men were a little puzzled how to treat the new voters, tobacco would not work." I would suggest a little Christian courtesy and consideration and not try to walk over us, also remembering that most women will vote as their conscience dictates.

50 CHICKENPOX CASES IN CITY

Health Officer Frank A. Johnston estimated this morning that there were at least fifty chickenpox cases in Kingston at the present time, although all of them have not been reported as yet. All cases of chickenpox should be reported promptly by the parents, teacher or physician. While the majority of cases are of school age, several adults are also afflicted with the disease.

A Serious Operation.

Mrs. Peter Klos of Farrell street, Saugerties, underwent a serious operation in the Benedictine Sanitarium, Kingston, Thursday morning. Dr. Mark O'Meara performed the operation, assisted by Dr. L. V. Gifford.

WHY POWER WAS CUT OFF THURSDAY

A gust of wind was the indirect cause of crippling the city's industries on Thursday afternoon when for a long period electric current for lighting and power purposes was either cut off or at a low voltage.

A farmer living on the old Dahlen farm just west of the city limits was cutting down a large pine tree near the High Falls transmission line of the Kingston Gas and Electric Company. Knowing that there was danger of the tree falling on the wires, he had attached a line part way up the trunk to pull it in the desired direction when it fell but just as it started downward a hard gust of wind came along and blew it on top of the power line. One of the two wires was broken and the current reaching the city on the other was not enough to supply full voltage.

Repair men were at once sent out to remedy the trouble but by the time they had located and repaired the break all users here of electric power save the trolley company, which generates its own "juice" were greatly inconvenienced. The lessened current prevailed intermittently for about two hours and the line was "dead" for an additional half hour.

One phase of the inconvenience at The Freeman plant was lack of current to run the presses which caused the out of town papers to miss the mail.

HATTIE WEEKS GIVEN $100

By Jury in Action Against Dr. Kemble for Assault—Asked $1,000—Flanagan Complimented.

The jury in the case of Hattie Weeks against Dr. William Kemble, to recover for assault, came to an agreement late Thursday afternoon and returned a verdict of $100 for the plaintiff. The amount sued for was $1,000.

Chris J. Flanagan, who appeared for the plaintiff, in summing up his case presented the facts to the jury in a very skillful and able manner and following the conclusion of the case was complimented by many of the older members of the bar, who also prophesied another remarkable criminal lawyer for the Ulster county bar.

The entire Wednesday afternoon session of supreme court was taken up with the trial of the action brought by Hattie Weeks against Dr. William Kemble, an action brought to recover $1,000 for assault, alleged to have been committed by Dr. Kemble at the sanitarium of Dr. Kemble on Clinton avenue on October 15, 1918.

The complaint alleges that Dr. Kemble on the evening of October 15, assaulted Mrs. Weeks, striking her in the face and calling her names.

From the testimony it appears that Mrs. Weeks had gone with her son to the Kemble Sanitarium where her son, Floyd, was being treated. According to Mrs. Weeks's testimony she had gone with her son to the operating room on the second floor of the place and Dr. Kemble and his son, Urban Kemble, and Dr. Dumond were present in the room. While treating the boy, who is suffering from tubercular glands, Mrs. Weeks made some remark about the manner of his treatment and Dr. Kemble replied that he was through with the case and she should take the boy elsewhere. To this she replied that she had spent considerable money on the boy and Dr. Kemble was partly responsible for the condition of the boy.

This he claims enraged the doctor, who said, "If you were a man I would smash your face." After a moment he spoke again saying, "I will do it anyway," and then struck her in the head, knocking her down in the lap of Dr. Dumond, who was seated near the operating table, calling her a name at the time.

Then she testified Dr. Kemble walked from the room and she with the assistance of Urban Kemble dressed the boy and they left the room and went to another doctor.

Dr. William Kemble testified that while he was removing the bandage and packing from the wounds of the boy he was compelled to stoop down. While in this position Mrs. Weeks pushed or pulled him down on the floor and began talking in loud tones. He warned her to keep quiet as there were patients in the place in a critical condition but she refused to be quiet. He then told her to take her son elsewhere for treatment and as she persisted in talking loud and making a nuisance he took her by the shoulders and put her from the room. He denies having struck her although he said he might have, even, he was not sure.

Dr. Dumond's testimony was practically the same as Dr. Kemble's.

Mrs. Weeks testified that she had some time ago sued her brother-in-law for assault.

She also testified that she had suffered headaches before Dr. Kemble struck her but they were sick headaches.

When questioned by Judge Brinkerhoff as to whether she had not taken carbolic acid once to relieve her headaches she replied:

"No, not for that purpose."

At the time she sued her brother-in-law she mentioned pains in her head, following the assault, as one of the sufferings for which she should recover.

An attempt was made to show that Dr. Kemble had once assaulted Judge William D. Cunningham by "punching" him, also that Dr. Kemble had been indicted by the grand jury but that the indictment was dismissed.

Chris Flanagan with Robert Howard of counsel appeared for the plaintiff and Judge William D. Brinkerhoff appeared for Dr. Kemble. The case was submitted to the jury shortly after 4 o'clock.

NORTH ATLANTIC SHIPPING HIT

Blining Snow Storm, Fire at Sea, Collision and Rocks Cause Six Steamers and Schooner to Call for Help.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Boston, Dec 12.—Six steamers and a schooner are in distress, according to wireless reports reached here today. The steamers Lake Elmdale and Galewood, both United States Shipping Board vessels, grounded in a blinding snow storm. The Elmdale went ashore on Prince Edward Island. Reports say the crew has been saved. The Galewood foundered off Port Hood Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The crew of 38 men were rescued after being battered about in open boats in the storm. The Galewood was bound from Cleveland to Boston.

The Leyland Liner Mercian, Boston for Manchester, England, reported afire 35 miles south of Cape Race, has started for St. Johns, N. B.

The British steamer Carmania, which was in collision with the steamer Maryland, 500 miles off Halifax, is making port under her own steam. The Maryland is continuing on her voyage.

The steamer Chetopa, giving her position as 255 miles southeast of Halifax, is sending urgent calls for assistance. She has lost two propeller blades and is unmanageable.

No word has been received from the United States Shipping Board steamer Davidson County, reported in the same plight as the Chetopa.

The British schooner Barbara W. Walton, N. S. W., to New York, was rescued from the shoals off Martha's Vineyard Isles by the Coast Guard Cutter Gresham and was towed to Vineyard Haven.

The possible loss of the United States Shipping Board tug Bison, bound for this city, with her crew of 13 men, is also indicated in advices. No details were given.

SOUTHERN FLOOD CONDITION BETTER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 12.—It is hoped today that the crisis of the worst flood in the history of Montgomery has passed. It is said that the river receded about one inch during the night, but further rains are predicted for today. Yesterday evening the Alabama river had risen to a stage of 57.9. The preceding high water record was in 1886 when the river reached 56 feet.

Hundreds of persons have been rescued from tree and house tops. Thousands of refugees are in the city and many relief organizations worked faithfully throughout yesterday and last night to provide quarters for the unfortunates.

A serious situation is reported from Prattsville where the large dam went out Wednesday night. It was reported that water stands 7 feet deep in the streets of the town and there is much suffering. Several deaths were reported.

Two negroes were drowned at Montgomery last night. Conflicting reports are received as to the number who lost their lives, but it is said the number will not exceed fifteen.

The several power plants of this city are inundated and no street cars or electric lights can be had within a week.

The city is threatened with a water shortage owing to the stoppage by the high waters of the public works. No water can be pumped into the city until the water recedes. It is also threatened with a coal shortage and restrictions have already been placed on the sale of kerosene, which supply is running low.

DANSEY DEATH LAID TO WHITE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Hammonton, N. J., Dec. 12.—Formal complaint was filed in the county court today by Prosecuting Attorney E. C. Gaskill, charging Charles S. White with "the wilful murder" of three year old "Billy" Lasser. At the same time, Mrs. Edith Jones, housekeeper for Councilman Edward White, father of Charles, was accused of concealing knowledge of the "foul crime."

Both White and Mrs. Jones are in jail at Mays Landing awaiting action by the grand jury.

The official complaint is based upon a deposition by Chief of County Detectives John P. Wilson, who has been investigating the case since little "Billy" disappeared from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hercules Dansey, on October 8th.

OPERATORS BALK AT SETTLEMENT

Big Pennsylvania Field Owners Say Wilson-Lewis Plan Merely Puts Off Show-Down on Principles.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Coal operators of the central Pennsylvania bituminous fields today came out against the plan for the settlement of the coal strike.

The Central Pennsylvania Coal Operators' Association, in session here, adopted resolutions protesting against the proposed settlement.

"Settlement of the bituminous coal strike under the plan accepted by the mine workers officials at Indianapolis, is no settlement whatever of principles at stake in the controversy," said a statement issued by the operators. "It is merely a postponement of the showdown which, in our opinion, is bound to come."

The operators have not been notified of the making of the agreement, beyond newspaper reports. They have not been asked whether the proposition of settlemen it satisfactory to them nor have they been told any of the terms on which the men are returning to work beyond the brief statement of the attorney general and later that of Acting Prsident Lewis.

"We are completely in the dark," said one large operator, "we are told that an agreement to settle the strike has been reached, but we only know its terms from newspaper accounts. We are told there is to be a commission to inquire into our business, and possibly make a new wage agreement. We have not been notified of anything to that effect."

GARFIELD QUITS AS FUEL HEAD

And Resignation Is Accepted—Believed He Quit Rather Than be Party to Making Public Pay More for Soft Coal.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Dr. Harry Garfield, fuel administrator, has resigned.

This was announced at the White House today.

President Wilson now has the resignation and it will be accepted immediately.

Director General Hines of the railway administration will perform the duties of the fuel administration.

Complete silence has been held by Dr. Garfield as to the terms of the coal strike settlement. It is known, however, that he does not agree altogether with the plan because the commission established to reach a permanent agreement is not confined in its powers and may increase the cost of coal. Dr. Garfield has stood out against any increase in the cost of coal to the public and it is believed he offered his resignation rather than see this principle lost.

"We are all sorry that Dr. Garfield feels that he must go," Secretary Tumulty stated. "He has done a fine job and he is a fine man."

The letter of resignation was not given out, but it was stated that it might be made public later in the day.

No reason for the resignation was announced by the White House, but it is understood that Dr. Garfield feels that he has not been accorded sufficient part in the recent negotiations with the miners, and that inasmuch as he has been slighted, he must resign.

Dr. Garfield, at the cabinet meeting on last Friday, is understood to have taken a decided stand on the coal situation and there was a disagreement and it was decided that the president must act to settle the strike. Dr. Garfield was criticized with regard to the statement that the president planned to make on Saturday night. When it was decided by Secretary Tumulty not to issue this statement, after a conference with John L. Lewis and William Green, Dr. Garfield was not advised. In the meantime Dr. Garfield had made a statement which was to be supported by the president's statement. The withdrawal of the president's statement made Dr. Garfield's statement appear ineffectual it is understood he maintains.

Dr. Garfield and the president are said not to be in entire accord for the creation of a commission to investigate the miners' wages, since there is no restriction upon the commission in the matter of increased prices to the public.

MINERS ARE RESUMING WORK

And Their Leaders Are Appealing to Them to Do All Possible to Fill Up Big Hole in Nation's Coal Bin.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Indianapolis, Ind Dec. 12.—A complete restoration of conditions approximating normal is expected by officials of the United Mine Workers, as a result of letters, in the nature of an appeal for immediate resumption of work, mailed today to all district and local unions of the organizations.

The letters, which supplement telegrams, sent out at the close of the conference which agreed upon acceptance of the president's strike settlement terms Wednesday, advised the miners not to delay their return to work because an immediate resumption of operations will result in a moral advantage which will be of great benefit to the mine workers. The communication, it was indicated at union headquarters is designed to bring into line recalcitrant locals which so far have refrained from taking up their tools.

Barring extreme cold weather, production and distribution of soft coal, will be restored sufficiently to permit return to normal commercial and industrial activity within a fortnight, it is believed by operators, miners leaders and railroad officials here. The hole in the nation's coal bin, caused by the six weeks of non-production, however, cannot be filled this winter and there will be no reserve fuel supply, these officials say.

Reports reaching here today show a general resumption of mining operations in many fields.

ILLINOIS MINES BEING WORKED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Springfield, Ills., Dec 12.—Coal was hoisted from the majority of mines in Illinois today for the first time in six weeks, reports received at headquarters of the United Mine Workers' Union here stated.

Miners who returned to work yesterday had cleared away most of the debris from the mines so that coal could actually be dug. As soon as it was brought to the surface the coal was loaded on cars waiting at the mines.

The reports at union headquarters state most of the miners in the state have gone back to work. A few locals are still out however. These are the "radicals," union leaders say, who believe they will also have returned by the first of next week. These, the reports state, are in the southern fields.

TREATY REJECTION BY UNITED STATES

Causes French and English To Shift Parleys To London Where Strictly European Problems are Considered.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Dec. 12.—The seat of the peace conference deliberations had shifted from Paris to London today with the discussions of Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau upon momentous European questions growing out of the war.

Although no official statement was given out as to the ground covered during the first day's discussions, it was understood that the economic situation of England and France was considered in an informal way.

Premier Clemenceau has refused to talk for publication since his arrival and the meeting on Thursday afternoon was conducted with the utmost secrecy.

While it was presumed that the Italian-Jugo Slav territorial dispute was probably mentioned, Vittori Sciolari, the Italian foreign minister, did not attend. Earl Curzon, the British foreign secretary, was the only outsider called in.

The belief has been strengthened that, before the conferences end tomorrow, rules and regulations will have been agreed upon which tacitly accept the isolation of the United States from the peace treaty.

The discussions were continued today at Premier Lloyd George's official residence at Downing street.

MICHAEL EXPLAINS PER CAPITA COST

Says District 8 of Ulster is Fortunate in Low Amount it Pays For Tuition Here—Cost to Be Much Higher This Year.

Board of Education, City of Kingston, N. Y., Myron J. Michael, Superintendent of Schools.

December 9, 1919.

To the Editor of The Freeman.

My attention has been called to a communication from Trustee W. W. Van Keuren, of School District No. 8, town of Ulster, published in your issue of The Freeman December 5.

I think Trustee Van Keuren is laboring under a misconception of the basis on which per capita cost is figured for his district. Title XV added by chapter 494, laws of 1902, paragraph 181 in part reads as follows:

"And the board of education of the city of Kingston shall upon the passage by such district (District No. 8, town of Ulster) of a resolution directing their trustee to contract with said city for the education of their pupils therein, enter into a contract with the trustee or trustees of such district for the education in the schools of said city of all pupils residing in such territory at a rate of compensation not, however, to exceed the average cost per pupil for maintenance of the school system in the city of Kingston exclusive of any appropriations for the purchase of new sites, erections or repairs or buildings therein."

The per capita cost in Mr. Van Keuren's contract is $27 and not $27.06 as stated by him. The following items taken from our expenditures for the school year ending July 31, 1919, formed the basis for computing the per capita cost for pupils in all grades below the high school:

$56,766	Salaries of elementary teachers.
8,960	Salaries of elementary principals.
3,639	⅔ of salaries of superintendent and office force.
2,697	Salaries of supervisors.
6,360	Salaries of janitors.
1,672	Text books.
3,362	Supplies.
$83,456

Dividing the total $83,456 by the number of pupils registered in the elementary schools, viz. 3,083, gives the per capita cost based on the items included above, viz. $27.06. The city of Kingston is therefore practically donating to school district No. 8, six cents per capita on the cost of instruction.

At the time the contract was submitted to Mr. Van Keuren for his signature, a copy of the above items of expense was furnished him. He had abundant opportunity to verify the correctness of our figures and should have done so before signing the contract. We still think they are absolutely correct.

Mr. Flemming's statement at the last meeting of the board of education was to the effect that for teachers' salaries alone the per capita cost under our proposed new schedule would be $23.60. It must be understood that this sum does not include any other operating expense such as fuel and other supplies, janitors' salaries, light and water rents. Under the new salary schedule, with the increased cost of all supplies, the recent advance in janitors' salaries and unusually high prices for fuel, the per capita cost for the current school year for all items of expenditure will approximate $33 in the elementary schools and probably $70 in the high school. Of course the exact cost per capita for the current year cannot be definitely determined until the close of the school year after all bills are audited and paid.

Very truly yours,
M. J. MICHAEL.

SHURTER THEATRE PLANS

Revised by Architect Gerard W. Betz—Building to Start Soon.

Architect Gerard W. Betz has submitted to the Shurter Theatre Company, Ellenville, revised and final plans for the new moving picture theatre to be erected on the McMullen property on Canal street, and the work of building is to be commenced at the earliest moment possible. The excavation will be rushed so that the heavy concrete foundations may be placed as soon as permitted by weather conditions. It is anticipated that this work will be all completed in record time, as all the men who can be worked advantageously will be put on the job.

The plans were changed to meet certain conditions affecting building operations, and the company expect to place the sketch of the new theatre on public inspection very soon.

It is announced that the theatre will amply fulfil every expectation in comfort, size and beauty. J. Leslie Shurter will be in charge of the new enterprise on behalf of the company.

THRIFT MOVEMENT WIDELY ENDORSED

Churches, Organizations and Prominent Individuals Lend Support to Government Saving Plan.

Efforts of the Government Loan Organization in the Second Federal Reserve District to foster the Thrift Citizens Movement have met with pronounced success from practically every quarter. Not only have leading citizens in cities, towns and hamlets given the plan their personal endorsement, but organizations of many kinds have added the weight of their influence to the movement to promote sensible spending and wise saving.

Foremost among the effective endorsements is that of Archbishop

Archbishop Hayes Indorsing Thrift Citizens Movement.

Patrick J. Hayes, of the Catholic Diocese of New York, who, in a letter to the clergy, declares that thrift is an antidote for anarchy. The prelate has recommended that members of the church be urged to become exponents of thrift.

Unqualified approval of the Thrift Citizen idea was tendered by the New York State chapter of the American Legion at its recent meeting in Rochester. In adopting a resolution, the Legion went on record as favoring the saving idea and also urged individual members of the organization to participate actively themselves.

Strong public support was recently given through the adoption by the New York City Board of Aldermen of a resolution making recommendation to the citizens to invest in Treasury Savings Certificates. The City Fathers declared their opinion that the practice of thrift is the principal remedy for the high cost of living and economic ills.

Recommending its members to become Thrift Citizens and active leaders in the work and save plan, the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York adopted a resolution supporting the Thrift Movement. The example of this organization, the strongest of its kind in the country, was followed by similar action on the part of numerous boards of trade and commerce chambers throughout the district.

Some of the similar bodies supporting the Movement by official endorsement are:

Chamber of Commerce, Bayonne, N. J.; Chamber of Commerce, Jersey City; Chamber of Commerce, South River, N. J.; Rotary Clubs of Bayonne, Jersey City and the Oranges; Boards of Trade of New Brunswick and Perth Amboy, N. J.; The Cartaret Club of Jersey City, N. J.; The B. P. O. Elks of Bayonne and Jersey City, N. J.; and the Citizens Committee of Morristown, N. J.

Fraternal organizations in many sections of the district are solidly supporting the Thrift Citizens Movement, and by resolution and personal interest thousands of members have enlisted actively in the plan of "Work and Save."

Many prominent citizens whose leadership and example is valuable in their respective communities have become individual thrift leaders by investing in Treasury Savings Certificates. The list of such leaders is increasing daily. Among the scores of men prominent in public and business life in New York City who have joined the Thrift Citizens Movement are:

Postmaster Thomas G. Patten, Maurice E. Connolly, Borough President of Queens; William H. Edwards, Collector of Internal Revenue; Martin Vogel, Assistant Treasurer of the United States; Major General John F. [illegible] Commander of the Twenty-seventh Division, A. E. F.; Bishop Charles Sumner Burch, of the Episcopal Diocese of New York.

THRIFT SLOGANS.

Buying Treasury Savings Certificates is profitable patriotism.

Success is for those who deserve it. Buy Treasury Savings Certificates.

Every day gullible persons, looking for a chance to get big returns on the money they invest, are fleeced by promoters of wild-cat stocks.

KINGSTON, N. Y., DEC. 12, 1919.

The Kingston city board of health reiterates its promise to make public the milk scores "next month." We have heard this before. The people of Kingston are paying a high price for milk and are entitled to the best, but whether they are receiving the best or the worst, so far as cleanliness is concerned, they do not know. It is time the board of health told them. There never was any reason for the board of health to refrain from supplying this information. Unless Kingston has a standard of cleanliness for milk that is rigidly enforced it is sure to be the dumping ground for milk that cannot be sold elsewhere. This is not fair to milk producers who spend money in maintaining cleanliness and who, under the present system of secrecy, are receiving no reward for their good work. It is not within the province of the board of health to investigate prices, but this ought to be the duty of someone. In another city that was paying 15 cents a quart for milk an investigation of prices and profits resulted in the dealers reducing the prices to 12 or 13 cents. If in other cities, why not in Kingston? We have a lot of state officials whose duty it is to make such investigations when called up. Why not call upon them?

THE PLAY'S THE THING.

George Newcastle, an Englishman, claims that he has "come across several secret messages in a small cipher in the 1623 folio of the plays of Shakespeare" stating that a life of the great bard and a history of his times "are hidden within his monument in Stratford Church chancel." He therefore asks that a skillful mason be commissioned to open the monument and take out these treasures. Mr. Newcastle admits that the "same simple cipher" he discovered, when applied to the works of Ben Jonson, makes that contemporary say that Shakespeare hid such a memoir in the monument. This shows that the new discoverer of a cipher, like Ignatius Donnelly, proves altogether too much. It will be recalled that many years ago Donnelly, a Minnesota lawyer, discovered a "cryptogram" in Shakespeare's text which proved that Bacon not only wrote Shakespeare's plays but Marlowe's and practically all the world's literature.

Of course, Donnelly failed, as Newcastle will fail, to convince a skeptical world. Lord Bacon would have been too proud of his achievement to conceal his authorship of Shakespeare's plays if he had written them. As for Shakespeare, he was too busy writing great plays, making a living thereby, and delighting the literati of his age, to have time for manufacturing ciphers or writing documents to be senselessly hidden away. Moreover, the real authorship is a relatively unimportant matter as long as the world is in possession of Shakespeare's work. After all, "the play's the thing"—not the mere name of the author.

WOMEN IN POLITICS.

Lady Astor's election to Parliament seems to have stimulated expectations in America as well as in England. Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the Woman's Bureau of the National Democratic committee, announces that a number of women will "run" for Congress in the next campaign, says that women will be elected to the legislatures in many States, and that in the campaign of 1924 we shall see women candidates for President. She says further that women will elect the next President and that therefore the man who wins next year "must be a vivid man, of forceful personality and action." Presumably a "vivid man of forceful personality" is one whose looks and manners are pleasing to the other sex—in brief, a "ladies' man." The times would seem to call for a statesman of the highest order but Mrs. Bass appears to be convinced that the majority of women will require first of all a "forceful personality."

She bases her prediction that women will elect the next President on the expectation that the Federal suffrage amendment will be ratified by January 25," thus giving women "... on ballots." Such confidence is ... ratified by the record of ratifi... to date. Though 36 ratifi... are necessary, only 13 States ... months. There was a rush of ratifications in the beginning, then followed a slow-down, and then almost a stop. Only 13 States are necessary to defeat the amendment, three have rejected it, and more than the remaining 10 are reported to be either opposed or debatable. At present the prospects of ratification in time for the Presidential election are at least uncertain.

ACCORD.

Accord, Dec. 12.—The sale of Christmas seals for the fight against tuberculosis in Ulster county is progressing very nicely in Accord. Thus far about $20 has been realized from the sale of one cent seals. In addition to this, $30 has been received from the sale of "Health Bonds," the following persons having each purchased a $5 "Bond:" Daniel Schoonmaker, G. R. Schoonmaker, Charles Anderson, H. L. Devoe, James Lounsbery and Max Maltz. All those who have not yet taken an active part in the great battle against tuberculosis, and who desire to do so, may send their contributions to Miss Nellie Schoonmaker. Considering the worthiness of the cause, it is hoped that at least $100 will be raised in Accord and vicinity.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Dec. 12.—Hope Lodge, No. 65, Knights of Pythias, will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in their castle hall on Broadway.

Mrs. John Holliday of Bowne street is having her house wired for electricity.

Evangelist T. Leroy Muir preached to the mothers Thursday night. Those present wore white ribbons or white flowers. Mr. Muir paid a great tribute to the mothers and preached a practical sermon. R. E. Kauffman, the song leader, sang a very appropriate song and was well rendered. The meetings are very interesting and helpful. Every one invited.

Mrs. James I. Van Aken of Riverside avenue was the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. Wells on Broadway Thursday afternoon.

Miss Belle Krum of St. Remy was the guest of Mrs. James O. Drake on Salem street Thursday.

A large number of people were in attendance at the mothers' night meeting in connection with the Muir evangelistic campaign at the Methodist Church Thursday night. R. E. Kauffman sang two messages in song, "My Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me," and "Tell Mother I'll Be There" and the song service was in honor of mother with songs favorite to her. Evangelist Muir spoke from Kings 20:15: "What Have They Seen in Thine House." What we do in our homes determines what kind of people we are. Here we see the real person. There's nothing like having Jesus Christ the head of the home. The greatest need in the world today is Christian mothers at the head of the home. Godly influence of Godly parents in Godly homes is what is needed most. Don't force your children to go to church and Sunday school, go with them. Thank God for mothers and dads who can lead boys and girls to Jesus. Jesus loves the home and God loves the people of the home so much that He sent His Son, Jesus, to take their place on the cross that they might have eternal life and through his blood. Have you wandered away from home, mother and Jesus? Oh, come back, come home tonight! God help you to find Jesus as your personal Saviour. There is no other name whereby we must be saved.

AT THE THEATERS.

At the time of its stage presentation it placed the late playwright at the pinnacle of popularity and now that it has been translated into picture language it will carry Miss Clark still further along the high road to success. Larry Seamon, hailed as a greater comedian than "Charlie" Chaplin, was a show in itself and will be repeated again tonight. George Walsh in "Help! Help! Police!" tomorrow.

The story of Gouverneur Morris's latest work of fiction, "When My Ship Comes In," presented in its picturized version at the Auditorium tonight for the first time since its successful New York run, combines romance, adventure, mystery and love in a way that holds the attention from the flash of its title on the screen until the final fadeout. A Gale Henry comedy and Fox News Weekly are added attractions. Tomorrow Harry Carey in "Rider of the Law."

Tonight is the opening night of the basketball season at Kingston High School. The Varsity will line up against the Triangles of this city, while the second team will oppose the quintet from Saugerties High School. The first game starts at 7:30.

The High School team is captained by "Bill" Smith, one of last year's regular forwards. The rest of the line up will probably be chosen from the following: Thompson, Meeker, Wilson, Goldberg, McAndrew and Becker. Some of these men were regulars or subs last year. Goldberg is the only one who did not play on the Varsity, as he captained the Midgets.

Immediately following these games there will be a private dance for the students and members of the K. H. S. Alumni. Music will be furnished by John Bott's orchestra of three pieces.

GOOD THING LOST

Uncle Henry Surely Had Marvelous Fertilizer.

Unfortunately, After It Had Demonstrated Its Amazing Effect on Growing Corn He Could Not Remember the Ingredients.

"Friday dandelions were in bloom at York, Pa. Saturday they were covered by six inches of snow."—Boston Globe.

Once more we have to thank the Boston Globe for jogging our memory, says the Lewiston Journal. How it all comes back to us. Uncle Henry on mother's side was a farmer-inventor. He rigged up all sorts of farm machinery which wouldn't operate anywhere except on paper, or in Uncle Henry's head. He was also a great hand to experiment with fertilizers, and while he was always on the track of a fertilizer that was going to produce a double crop of something or other his experiments usually resulted in reducing his crops materially, and the rest of the family had to do some pretty tall hustling to catch even.

One fall Uncle Henry produced a fertilizer that he was sure would revolutionize the farming industry, and if smell could have turned the trick it would have, too. His fertilizer had a bouquet that, when the wind was right, depopulated the country for a mile away from the house. The rest of the family went away to visit till the smell thinned out some or overcame Uncle Henry. There used to be a lot of skunks in our neighborhood, but they all moved away that fall. A German butcher who manufactured limburger cheese on the side offered Uncle Henry $5,000 for the secret of that smell, intending to manufacture a cheese that would make him a millionaire when he got it on the market. But Uncle Henry wouldn't sell. He said it was his duty to invent a fertilizer that would double crops and he was going to stick to it till he did, if he never had a cent. He had plenty of scent, however. When the family finally received word that a person might live in the house if he didn't breathe too deep nor too often they came back. Uncle Henry had become discouraged and buried his sample of the new fertilizer in the front yard. That night he fed the hens in about the same place, and when he threw out their corn they wouldn't go within ten feet of the place where the fertilizer was buried. That night it came on to snow, and it snowed hard for ten hours. After it stopped Uncle Henry's two youngest children, John and Hilda, put on their outdoor clothes and built a snow man right over the spot where the fertilizer was buried. Then they built a big snow house and played in it till night. The next morning when Uncle Henry went out to do the chores he was amazed to see, about six feet up in the air, the snow man and the snow house, apparently supported by thick green sticks with leaves upon them. He got over his surprise and investigated. He found that the green sticks were lusty cornstalks which had taken root and, nourished by his fertilizer, had sprung up in two days to their present height of 15½ feet, and produced some of the finest fodder corn we ever saw. Unfortunately, Uncle Henry could never remember what he had put into that fertilizer, and, of course, his sample was gone, so he never got any pecuniary benefit from it.

Knew How He Felt.

Theodore was delighted with his new suit, bought with a view to future use and with due regard to Theodore's rapid growing propensities. But when he wore it to school his joy was quickly turned to grief as the unfeeling boys frankly accused him of wearing his father's clothes. The teacher used her utmost tact to smooth out matters, but the tear-stained little face did not clear all day. The next day another boy appeared in a new coat evidently made from his mother's. The astrakhan collar was sufficient to stir up the "savage" state of the boys. The new garment was promptly dubbed "his sister's coat." Again did tears flow copiously and the teacher was at her wits' end to give comfort. Little Theodore slipped his arm around the weeping boy and said: "Don't cry, Jimmy; that's just the way I felt yesterday."

Ladybirds Did It.

Co-operating with the city of New Orleans and the state of Louisiana, the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture, completed during the year the control of the fluted scale in New Orleans and neighboring places. This was accomplished by the propagation and liberation of thousands of the natural enemy of this scale insect, the Australian ladybird. More than 300 colonies of the ladybirds were liberated over an area of 40 square miles. The distribution also was extended to the known outlying infestations of the fluted scale in Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas.

The Turning Point.

"I understand you have a son with Pershing."

"Yes," answered Mr. Cobbles. "And when Henry left home I could see by the look in his eyes that he meant business."

"He gave a good account of himself, no doubt?"

"Well, it may sound like boastin' for me to say it, but ten days after my boy landed in France the war was over."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

One Exception.

"All that man's stock is watered."

"Maybe in his corporation, but I'll bet his private stock isn't."

Counting the Days.

"The days are growing short."

"That's nothing. So is everybody."

Mrs. Rena Mooney.
INTERNATIONAL.

Mrs. Rena Mooney, wife of Thomas Mooney, labor leader who is serving a life term in California in connection with the Preparedness Day bomb explosion in San Francisco in 1916, has been freed of complicity in the case. The California supreme court has ordered the dismissal of the charges against Mrs. Mooney.

Ingenious Picture.

There is in one of the continental picture galleries a painting called "Cleveland." At first sight it looks like a huge, repulsive daub of confused color, without form or comeliness. As you walk toward it, it proves to be a mass of exquisite little cherub faces like those at the head of the cross in Raphael's "Madonna San Sisto."

USES COMMON YELLOW MUSTARD FOR CHEST COLDS AND SORE THROAT

Old Fashioned Simple Home Remedy Much Used by Doctors and Nurses for Inflammation, Congestion, Aches, Pains and Swellings.

Mustard, real yellow mustard, the kind you use at home, is being used more than ever to banish distress and misery and free mankind from agony and suffering.

Not very long ago people used to make yellow mustard into a paste, spread it on a cloth and apply it to that part of the body where pain or inflammation was present.

It surely did do the work it was expected to do, but it was messy and bothersome and often blistered the skin.

People still use yellow mustard when they get a cold in the chest or have pleurisy, lumbago or rheumatic pains and swellings.

But nowadays they buy this yellow mustard in condensed form all ready for use for something like 30 cents a box and find it much better, cheaper and cleaner than mustard plasters.

This yellow mustard preparation, which is known to millions as Begg's Mustarine is sold at drug stores all over America and one box will do the work of 50 mustard plasters and it cannot blister the tenderest skin.

Begg's Mustarine is the original mustard preparation used to take the place of blistering mustard plasters and is known among druggists as the quickest pain killer on earth.

It will pay you to keep a box of Begg's Mustarine in the house, for it is good for so many ailments that you will need it often.

Just rub it on, that's all you have to do and headache, backache, earache and toothache will disappear almost instantly.

Don't fail to use it for neuritis, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, gout and rheumatic pains and swellings.

You will quickly find that there is nothing so good for sprains and strains, sore muscles, stiff neck and cramps in leg.

Heat eases pain and Begg's Mustarine made of real yellow mustard with other helpful ingredients added contains more concentrated, non-blistering heat than can be found in any box the same size.

Just try a 30-cent box—you'll praise it to the skies as millions are doing every day. Always in the yellow box.

Melting Ice To Get Water

Wouldn't it be foolish to melt ice every time we wanted to use water?

But when we use butter or lard compounds in cooking, we melt them until they become fluid.

The melting process takes place in the oven after they are mixed with other food, or in the frying pan.

That is the simple science of cooking with fats.

What we want is the fluid fat.

SALANUT is fluid fat, the refined oil of the peanut---pure vegetable oil.

Filtration and boiling under a vacuum remove the peanut flavor. Live superheated steam passed through it insures purity. Hermetically sealed cans guarantee it against contamination.

SALANUT simplifies cooking.

Ask your grocer for SALANUT.

"1919—Americans are buying Red Cross Christmas seals"

CHRISTMAS GIFTS RIGHT FROM JAPAN

To Freeman Readers:—

The writer has always been partial to Oriental, especially Japanese articles of every sort; their dainty needle-work and fabrics and their Cloisonne Cloisonne, Satsuma and lacquer work. Nothing has seemed to her to make a more desirable Christmas gift than something Japanese. However, it has been, for the most part, impossible to get any such gifts of late years without going to New York city.

When therefore a really truly, Pagoda "Gift Shop" was discovered in the Van Wagenen Store, the writer felt that she must at once tell her friends and neighbors who are exclusive, yet not expensive and for Christmas, all about it.

You will find the Pagoda on the right hand side of the store near the stairs going to the basement, and you will discover that the Pagoda is crowded and overflowing with exquisite, dainty, curious and beautiful articles. Moreover the articles are most remarkably inexpensive, not only for these times but for any times. And the writer has purchased oriental articles enough times and in enough different places to know whereof she speaks in this particular respect.

Here are some of the articles she remembers: Silver inlaid serving trays; Cloisonne, Satsuma and Imari vases and dishes on their little teakwood stands, many kinds of lacquered articles like playing card cases, candy boxes, etc. Antimony vases, cigarette cases, etc.

Another article that appealed especially to the writer was little boxes containing sets of beautiful Cloisonne and Satsuma buttons, just little gems. In needlework there are elaborately embroidered centerpieces and embroidered pictures; kimonos silk and otherwise, hand and work bags, slippers, etc. O: yes! and there were Damascene cuff links, and hat pins.

Well, these are just a few of the things remembered, but the best way will be to make an early call at the store and you'll surely be more than delighted at this splendid Christmas "find."

Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York, Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital, says: "Many men who smoke, chew or snuff incessantly and who are seemingly healthy are suffering from poisoning, slightly, sometimes a sensation of dizziness would assert itself and it was then for the cigarette, pipe or tobacco, and thousands would do well if they would only stop the intemperate use of tobacco. The chief fascinating principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison which, when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, nerve tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be attended with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, mental confusion, etc. others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness or even cancer of the prominent affection known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests. Bend back one full page from a book. If in the course of reading your right forefinger muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you tend frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by tobacco and it may be the beginning of some trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke, walk with three digits of start at a regular pace then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart is fatigued, symptoms of weakness. You may be a victim of tobacco heart trouble. A sure test that you must smoke, chew or snuff the quid your system, you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are gradually poisoning yourself with the deadly drug nicotine. No matter how you have [illegible] alternatives—keep on with the self poisoning process irrespective of the dangers and suffer the consequences, or give up the habit and escape the dangers. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula, go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco, the craving will have left you. With the deadly poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Note—When asked about Nicotol tablets, one of our leading druggists said: "It is really a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; never heard of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold under an iron clad guarantee by all druggists in Kingston, including Connell-Tear Company and Tru Frock Pharmacy.

FACTORIES AGAIN IN FULL SWING

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Dec. 12.—The upward movement in factory employment was resumed in November, following the decline resulting from labor troubles, which was noted in October. An increase of 3 per cent in total number of workers appears in the tabulation of 1,560 November reports of manufacturers to the bureau of statistics of the state industrial commission. Nearly all general industry divisions show improvement, and the total number of factory workers was higher than at any time since last December.

Gains were reported in cut stone and abrasives, jewelry, iron and steel, structural steel, sheet metal products, heating apparatus, machinery, railway supply and repair shops, shipbuilding, furniture, musical instruments, leather, rubber goods, buttons, combs, etc., oils and soaps, paper, paper boxes and other paper goods, printing, silk goods, woolen goods, miscellaneous textiles, men's clothing, men's furnishings, miscellaneous sewing, laundering and cigar and other tobacco producs.

Several of the larger increases were due to the settlement of labor troubles About half the number of workers out on strike in the steel mills of the state in October had returned at the time of November reports, and the iron workers in shipyards of the state had returned to most plants. The piano strike was still in force, but a few more were at work in the state as a whole in that industry An increase of $6 a week appears to have been sufficient incentive to cause printing workers to end their "vacation" and begin to return to work by the middle of November. Settlement of labor troubles was reported in the manufacture of combs and similar goods. In some of the silk glove factories and in the men's furnishings and laundering industriesof New York city. The strike in the cigar industry was settled after several months' duration, and the result is seen in a large increase in the number of workers reported in November.

Good business conditions may be credited with the increase in the number of workers employed in abrasives and cut stone, jewelry, enameled ware and other sheet metal products, heating apparatus, machinery, leather and rubber goods, oils and soaps, paper, woolen goods such as rugs, carpets and woolen cloth, and men's clothing. The total number of employes in each of the above industries, with one exception, was higher in November than in any previous month of the year. In several of these industries the November total was the highest on record.

The only decreases of the month were in the number of workers employed in the manufacture of brick, glass, automobiles, sawmill products, furs, cotton goods, women's clothing, cereals, canned goods, miscellaneous groceries, and beverages.

In general these decreases are seasonal—in brick, lumber, furs, women's clothing, cereals, canned goods, and grape juice. The decrease in the automobile group appears to be the indirect result of the steel strike, as some firms were obliged to reduce their operations on that account. In cotton goods the decrease is due to the spreading to another locality of the labor troubles in that industry. Employment in sugar refining in November was slightly lower even than in October, which was a low month. Employment in brewing appears to be on the decline.

AS BOOZE GOES THEY BUY CLOTHES

Ulster Park, N. Y., Dec. 6, 1919.

Editor Kingston Daily Freeman,

Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—

In your editorial column Thursday, December 4, you state that, "Whatever may be the citizens convictions, national prohibition unquestionably reduces trade, cuts enormously into the government's revenues and multiplies the taxes the people must pay."

In a recent issue of a metropolitan daily the clothing men of Syracuse, N. Y., reported a great increase in their business, traceable, so they said to prohibition, and, commenting further on this fact, predicted that America, once the home of hardest drinkers, was destined to become the home of the best dressed as a result of prohibition.

You state that national prohibition reduces trade. Admitted. It reduces trade for the brewers, distiller and saloonkeeper and perhaps for a few dealers in accessories. Probably less bar fixtures will be sold Pawn brokers also are complaining that their business has been badly hit and many will have to go out of business.

On the other hand. Shoe dealers, grocery men, butchers, bakers, furniture men and hundreds in other lines of business are testifying that to their surprise, prohibition has increased their business wonderfully. Take bank deposits. is there any industrial center (where vast numbers are not on strike) that has not shown a great increase in bank deposits under prohibition? Even Milwaukee "That made beer famous"

So much for the material loss which you bewail and which the bulk of testimony shows to be a gain Now as to the individual freedom (personal liberty used to be the phrase) at the High School Auditorium. Saturday. Mr Strivings said, "Individual freedom leaves off where the other fellows rights begin" The trouble is we have been cursed with selfishness and unwilling to recognize the other fellow's rights However, we're progressing and I predict that even beyond the three mile limit Uncle Sam will see that the sale of intoxicants will not be permitted on ships sailing under the American flag—conscientious objectors notwithstanding.

Yours truly.

THE HOME GUARD FIFTY YEARS AGO

In looking over some old papers that had belonged to his father, John D. L. Montanye, of 137 Cedar street, a few days ago, found an old document which will be of interest to many residents of Kingston, it being the original paper containing the signatures of prominent citizens of fifty years ago who had subscribed their names to become members of a Home Guard. The paper is dated August 3, 1861, and reads as follows:

"We hereby agree to organize ourselves into a Volunteer Military Force to be known as a Home Guard, and to submit to such discipline as shall be prescribed by our officers who shall be elected by our members. It is especially understood that this organization is independent of the Military Forces of the United States or the State of New York, but is only designed to answer any emergency which may affect the good order and safety of this locality."

LIST OF PROPER CHILDRENS BOOKS

(Contributed)

The following list of books is taken from the syllabus published by the New York State Department of Education and is printed in the interest of all who are anxious to put into the hands of these children not only good books but books appropriate to their years. The number of volumes for the first years is somewhat limited but from the fourth year there is a wide choice, and to cut out and preserve the entire list for future reference would be an inestimable aid in making selections for the children's library.

"The little university of the home," says Daniel Wolford LaRue in "Making the Most of the Children," "If it is to give experience enough to enrich life with meaning, should have at least four departments, a garden, a kitchen, a shop, and a library." Of the latter, he says, "The library is the brain of the house as the garden, kitchen and shop are its hands. It is the mental telescope enlarging the child's vision, both in time and space. All history draws near and distant lands and people become as next door neighbors.

"No child should be compelled to run to the corner grocery whenever he is hungry for food. No more should he be compelled to run to the public library whenever he may be hungry for books, and if the story hour and the library require some of the time and money with which we should otherwise indulge ourselves or deck our children's bodies let us remember that what they know is much more important than what they have, that William Penn was quite right when he said, 'It is not so much what we leave our children, but how we leave them.'"

CHRISTMAS CLUB FUNDS DIVIDED

One Bank Distributes $104,000 Saved By Thrifty For Holidays And Offers Bonus For Continuance of Accounts.

Wednesday the National Ulster County Bank distributed to over 3,500 members of their Christmas Club over $104,000, representing the savings of the thrifty people, who during the year have laid aside each week a small sum and as a result now have a substantial amount to devote to their Christmas shopping.

The number of the 1919 Christmas Club members was not as great as heretofore but the amount deposited was as large as ever before, indicating that the character of the members was of a more saving nature.

As an inducement for the members of the club to save part of their Christmas Club checks the bank opened an account with each member and offered to hold the books open for one year with the hope that the members would make the account alive by depositing money from time to time. The bank also offered the members of the 1919 Christmas Club a bonus of $1 if they would do so.

With each book the following instruction went out explaining the offer which the bank has made.

"We herewith credit your account with the amount set forth on the opposite page.

"It is not the amount we herewith credit you with, it's the spirit and principle. Many great fortunes have been founded on less. Several of our greatest bankers and financiers have stated at various times that the principal reason every man, woman and child has not a bank account is because they lack just one thing—the initiative—not the few cents necessary to start one.

"Therefore as an incentive to start an account with us—a live, progressive bank, broad and liberal, consistent with safe banking—we have opened an account for you in our bank, regardless of whether you already have one with another institution. You can keep this active.

"As an incentive to start with us, we hereby present you with a bank book and have credited your account with the amount entered on opposite page, subject to the following conditions:

"When your average balance for one year is $25 you are entitled to draw the initial deposit entered herein. In addition you will be credited with our regular rate of interest on all additional average balances, compounded as set forth in our rules."

In each of these bank books which were sent to every member of the 1919 Christmas Club was an initial deposit of $1 credited, that amount to be given by the bank when the conditions were complied with. Many of the members of the Christmas Clubs have no banking accounts and in the hope that some members of the club would add some portion of their Christmas Club check which they have just received, these accounts were started.

These small accounts, added to, may be an incentive to many Kingstonians to begin a bank account which will grow and become the means of establishing a live and active account.

PINE GOES HOME

As Grand Jury Has No Jurisdiction in Case.

Daniel Pine, the Marbletown farmer, sent to jail Thursday morning by Justice of the Peace Sidney Myer of that town, to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of disorderly conduct, was told to go home in the afternoon by Seth Jocelyn, of the sheriff's office, as District Attorney Traver, after examining the commitment concluded it was of no value, as the grand jury had no jurisdiction over the crime as charged by the justice. Pine was told by Mr. Jocelyn to go home and go to work, which he said he would do, and started at once for Marbletown.

LATTINGTOWN.

Lattington, Dec. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Craft of Marlborough spent Thanksgiving at their son's home.

Two families, who have worked here for several years for fruit growers, expect to move away soon.

The revival meetings held at the new Methodist church, Marlborough, are largely attended, and much interest in Divine things is manifested by the audience. The Rev. Dr. Scudder of Englewood, N. J., is conducting them.

Last Sunday ten adults and two children were taken in on probation. Others have joined the Presbyterian church. The meetings will continue until this evening. The Rev. Mr. Knapp, the minister, feels encouraged, and he and the church hope to see a larger number of converts before the evangelistic services close.

Mrs. Scudder, wife of the evangelist, sang with Miss Griener in the choir Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Reynolds spent Thanksgiving in Poughkeepsie.

The community Sunday school fair held in the Baptist church on the afternoon and evening of December 4, was well attended by the neighbors and outsiders. It was called "The Apple Blossom Fair" and apple blossoms prevailed in the decorations. There were four handsomely trimmed booths, one being in each corner of the church. The grocery booth was presided over by Mrs. Harbaugh. The cake and candy booth by Mrs. Arnold Mackey; the fancy booth by Miss Etta Wolley and the stationery booth by Mrs. E. A. Reynolds. Mrs. H. V. Hicker also sold refreshments, consisting of coffee, cake and ice cream. The amount cleared was over $100, which gladdened the hearts of the workers, who will apply the proceeds for carpet and curtains for the church.

John Wilbur and the Misses Stella and Ruth Mackey came over from Poughkeepsie in their automobile to attend "The Apple Blossom Fair."

John and William Wolley have purchased a new Ford truck of Asa DuBois of Marlborough.

Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Scudder gave his views in the high school building on the way he and his church conduct a "Community Social Work."

Arnold Mackey went to the Rhinebeck fair Wednesday with some high priced fowls.

Mr. and Mrs. Tebby went to Poughkeepsie recently.

Mrs. O. H. Mackey and son, Wilbur, of Poughkeepsie, were in town, Tuesday.

The committee in charge are George L. Zelie, president; Arthur G. Carson, treasurer, and Fred Van Wagenen, secretary, and floor manager.

WAYS WITH LIVER.

The usual method of serving liver with bacon is about the extent of liver dishes in the average family. There are various ways of serving liver, a few of which are given below:

Liver Patties.—Scald a pound of liver and grind it with a fourth of a pound of bacon and one onion through the meat chopper. Season well, form into small cakes and cook in a little hot bacon fat, browning both sides.

Boiled Liver.—Cut liver in half-inch slices, cover with boiling water, let stand five minutes, then drain and wipe dry. Sprinkle with seasonings and broil on a well-greased broiler for five minutes. Serve dotted with bits of butter.

Liver Hot Pot.—Cut liver into slices a half-inch thick, soak in cold water for a few minutes; then dry them thoroughly; lay them in a saucepan and dredge with seasoned flour. Cover with thin slices of bacon and sprinkle with chopped onion and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Cook at the simmering point well covered for one and one-half hours. Serve garnished with rolls of fried bacon.

Liver Dumplings.—Chop half a pound of calf's liver, add a chopped onion, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt, pepper and a dash of nutmeg. Mix with two well-beaten eggs and one tablespoonful of butter. Add enough fine bread crumbs to form into balls and boil in soup stock. Serve in the soup.

Stuffed Liver.—Slice liver and parboil it in boiling water to cover. Soak six slices of bread in hot water 20 minutes; then squeeze dry. Mix the soaked bread with half a teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of sage, two teaspoonfuls of bacon fat and a few dashes of cayenne. Place a spoonful of the stuffing on each slice, roll and fasten with toothpicks for skewers. Place the rolls in a buttered baking dish, add a cupful of hot water and a spoonful of bacon fat; baste occasionally and bake 45 minutes.

EXPLAINS NATURE OF THIRST

Doctor Cannon of Harvard University Shows Where Popular Conception Has Been Wrong.

The popular conception of thirst, according to a well-known medical journal, is a lessened water content of the body, a condition in which the entire organism suffers, but Dr. W. B. Cannon of Harvard university, considers it a purely local phenomenon.

"According to him, the preeminent factor is the relative drying of the mucosa of the mouth and pharynx. This may result either from excessive use of the passage for breathing, as in prolonged speaking or singing, or it may be caused by deficient salivary secretion. The latter, according to Cannon, represents true thirst, resting on the fact that the salivary glands, which keep the buccal and pharyngeal mucosa moist, require water for their action."

The salivary glands occupy a strategic position in relation to a surface that tends to become dry by the passage of air over it. "Thus," Cannon concludes, "the diminishing action of the salivary glands becomes a delicate indicator of the bodily demand for fluid."

Hunger Helps Diabetics.

During the course of the world war, as the blockade and unfavorable internal conditions were gradually cutting down the rations of the central empires, it was frequently noted in German newspapers that, at all events, the food shortage had some redeeming features, chief of which was its beneficial effects upon sufferers from diabetes.

In corroboration of this assertion, now comes Professor Rosenfeld of Breslau with an article in a recent number of the Zeitschrift für Innere Medizin, showing how the mortality of deaths from diabetes was reduced during the war. In Berlin such deaths in 1918 totaled 377 against 261 in 1917, 330 in 1916, 382 in 1915, 397 in 1914, and 403 in 1913; in Munich the years 77, 73, 82, 101, 104 and 105, and in the same years, and in Breslau they were 51, 72, 75, 103, 115 and 105.

TREATY REVIVAL UP TO WILSON

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The fate of the peace treaty rests in the hands of the president today. Senator Lodge, Republican leader, declared that whatever is to be done to bring up the treaty again "must be done" by the president himself.

Thus far the president has indicated no desire to have the treaty taken up again, but is apparently waiting for public opinion to crystalize and force the senate to take action.

METTACAHONTS.

Mettacahonts, Dec. 11.—Mrs. Hannah M. Burger is enjoying a two weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Burger and other relatives at Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burger and family and the Misses Auchmoody at Lake Katrine and vicinity. Her many friends in this place wish her a very pleasant trip.

Mrs. Rider, who has spent the summer and fall with her daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Quick, left recently for Poughkeepsie, where she will spend the winter with her other daughter, Mrs. Lee.

Dr. Elijah Osterhoudt and wife of Newburgh motored Thursday and spent the day with the doctor's mother, Mrs. F. Zeaman. Dr. Osterhoudt made the trip in his new Oakland coupe, which he recently purchased.

Mrs. Rachel Anderson and Mrs. Bertha Baker have recently received letters from Mrs. Jack Connelly, who will be remembered as Miss Edith Anderson of this place, who now resides in California. Mr. and Mrs. Connelly recently bought a bungalow and several acres of land in Los Angeles, having sold their interest in the zinc mine in Arizona, where they formerly lived. Mrs. Connelly states the climate to be fine there at present and her yard is a mass of roses in bloom. They like the climate and situation much better than in Arizona. Where they live many people are engaged in raising bulbs for market.

Ernest Miller, son of Mrs. Jane Miller of this place, was united in marriage the past week to Miss Lulu Beesemer of Krumville. Our heartiest congratulations are extended to the happy pair.

Another recent marriage of interest to residents in town was that of Alton Dingy, formerly of this place, and Miss Lucy Waters of Burnside, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Dingy, after a short honeymoon in town, returned to his position on the railroad near Rock Tavern. They plan to go housekeeping at once and were accompanied on their return by Mr. Dingy's mother and brother, Mrs. William Dingy and Alfred Dingy, and by Miss Erma Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wood will sail December 23 for Charleston, S. C., and from there will go to Ormond Beach, Florida, where they will spend the winter months. By leaving so near Christmas time they will enjoy their Christmas dinner on the broad Atlantic. We wish them a safe and pleasant voyage.

Arthur Kelder, Elmer B. Hendrickson and Charles D. Osterhoudt butchered at Joseph Hendrickson's and Mrs. E. D. Markle's on Monday of this week.

What might have proved a much more destructive fire occurred on Thursday last at the farm of Miss Edna Markle, occupied by Jacob Krom and mother and brother. One of the house chimneys burned in the morning and it was thought to be over and everything safe. About noon Mrs. Krom had occasion to go to one of the upper rooms, which she discovered to be filled with smoke. Mr. Krom went at once for John J. Wood, a neighbor, who came and more help being needed Mrs. Wood went at once for Clarence Freer, who was just eating the noon meal. Mr. Freer hurried to the scene. Smoke was pouring out the siding. The three men tore the chimney out and found the fire upstairs. One beam was burned off and the lath were burned out. It was near the pine siding and was extinguished just in time and a serious fire averted.

Fall butchering has lately been accomplished at Josiah Krom's, Eugene Baker's and Mrs. Rachel Anderson's.

Miss Kathryn Hotaling, our teacher, is drilling the children for the Christmas entertainment to be given at Christmas time.

Eli Osterhoudt was in Kerhonkson on Monday.

Arthur Wood, Arthur Krom and Virgil Wood have been sawing down and cutting up chestnut trees at Jesse Osterhoudt's.

Quite a few from this place attended the Ladies' Aid play at the Whitfield school house on Friday evening last and report the play to have been good and also enjoyed the refreshments and a nice evening.

Ever Try Troco?

When you do, you want more—and you don't need to practice disagreeable economy in using Troco, for you save 25 to 40 cents on every pound of Troco you buy.

The dainty nut fat extracted from the white meat of fresh coconuts is churned with pasteurized milk by a special process which gives it the wonderful Troco flavor and texture. You can pay more, but you cannot buy a more delicate, delicious product for your table. Troco in cooking—for making cakes and for flavoring meats and vegetables—means added satisfaction.

Troco is churned and shipped every day, on ice. If your dealer will order frequently, and keep his stock in the ice box, your Troco will reach your table in all its original freshness and sweetness. If you have trouble in getting it in perfect condition, write direct to the Troco Nut Butter Company, Chicago.

We have to label Troco "oleomargarine" because of old laws, passed before this nut-made food was invented. But Troco contains no animal oils—nothing but pure vegetable fats, with pasteurized milk. We are also denied the right to color in churning. Write your congressman what you think of such discrimination.

Send for Troco Recipe Book

The Troco Recipe Book, a practical little volume, prepared by Ida C. Bailey Allen, gladly sent free on request. Address, Troco Nut Butter Co., 30 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, and mention your dealer's name.

FIRE DAMAGES ENGINEERS' CLUB

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 12.—Six women employes of the Engineers' Club were rescued by firemen and policemen early today when fire broke out the top floor of the building at 32 West Fortieth street. The blaze did damage estimated at from $100,000 to $150,000 and it was feared that valuable paintings from the Vanderbilt collection were damaged by smoke and water. The fire worked downward through the elevator shaft and threatened for a time to spread to the Knox building at Fortieth street and Fifth avenue. Three alarms were turned in.

Would Penalize Newspapers.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 12.—A bill providing for an increase in postal rates for newspapers five times the present rates was introduced in the senate this afternoon by Senator Jones, Democrat, of New Mexico. Senator Jones said the purpose of his bill was to curtail the use of print paper, which he charges was being used "extravagantly and wastefully." He urged the increase in postal rates he proposed be applied to all newspapers publishing more than 24 pages.

LOCALS REVOLT.

Miners of One Ohio County Refuse to Obey Return to Work Order.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Steubenville, O., Dec. 12.—The miners of Jefferson county are today in open revolt against the Indianapolis settlement of the coal strike.

Leaders of the opposition to the settlement are charging that it is a trick to get them to return to the mines for sixty days thus tiding the country over the winter.

Locals at Wolf Run, Borgholtz and Herrick voted not to return to work.

Eight hundred men in the Amsterdam district today declared they would not return until they see coal moving through from other mines.

The recalcitrant locals declared they have no faith in the proposed investigation.

One local refused to return to work because the telegram from acting President Lewis "did not bear an official seal."

One faction of the miners in this county is actively supporting the miners' officials but they are in the minority.

OHIO MINERS.

Will All Be Back Monday Says Secretary.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Columbus, O., Dec. 12.—"Such dissatisfaction as may exist among Ohio miners relative to the Indianapolis settlement of the coal strike will all be overcome by Monday," declared George W. Savage, secretary of the Ohio organization of the United Mine Workers here today. He said that reports reaching state headquarters here today indicated general compliance by Ohio miners with the request from Indianapolis union headquarters that all miners return to work immediately.

With All My Worldly Goods

By B. B. HACKLEY

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

The snow fell, heavy, continuous; the February afternoon was as dark as the soul of Bluebeard, but is was no more somber than the spirits of the two young women who occupied, respectively, the hyacinth-perfumed sitting room and the vanilla-scented kitchen of David and Eloise Hollingsworth's bungalow.

David and Eloise were gone to their work as newspaper editor and city librarian. Theresa, David's dainty young sister, crocheted and wept alternately, and Ishta Matilda Gumm's swart hands expressed the feeling of her suffering soul in the long-continued beating that made her eggkisses things to call forth stomachic peans.

"Thump do love me." Isaty murmured; "but dat lump o' taller inside his skull is dat money-crazy I's feered he's gwine ask dat yaller Anna to marry him, whilst he's dazzelt wid de accounts she givin' him o' de plunk she makes! Oh, Lawd, ef I jest had some property Thump could see now!"

Greed for gain was the dynamic force of the soul of the widowered teamster, Thumpus Cleaves. He owned his home and a bit of ground at its rear; he kept hens, fed them from garbage scraps (this was in the "good old days" when the American garbage can was not lean and ill-favored!)—and sold eggs at 50 cents the dozen all winter. In the afternoons he did janitor work, and at odd times toiled at anything that brought him money.

Two weeks before, however, outside of property, Ishty Matildy had apparently been all in all to Thump, but now she believed he had his "eye on" Anna Justice, a maid in the fashionable High Street school, a permanent position with wages largely in excess of Ishty's.

Money, too, was making Theresa miserable. Two years before, Great-Aunt Theresa Cass Bossier had succeeded in getting payment from the government for a parcel of land Great-Uncle John had sold in Civil war times. There was $12,000 of it, and Great-Aunt Theresa had died a month ago and left Theresa every penny of it.

Only two persons outside of her family, in the town in which she lived with her brother, had as yet heard of her inheritance and one was Ishty Matildy. The other was Park Collins, whose property, outside of his slender law practice, was less than nothing.

Tessie had told him. She had wanted to hear his joyous exclamation over her good fortune; but wanting to hear had been all. Park had congratulated her with all indignity, then had gone home and hadn't been back since. But Theresa loved him until the stars in the evening sky were not stars at all, but his blue eyes.

When she finally wiped her eyes and went out to the kitchen, Ishty sat with a newspaper propped in front of her.

"Lawd, why couldn't dis fool niggah a been white jes' fuh dis occasion?" she heard her mutter. Then the newspaper fell to the floor, and Ishty wept aloud. "Ef I was jest white now I could git de man I wants!"

"I am white," thought Theresa, "and I cannot get the man I want."

Ishty mopped her eyes with her skirt tail and pointed to the paper's first page. "You kin read good—read dat!"

"Leap Year Opportunity! Don't Be Shy, Girls—Pop the Question Now!" ran the headlines of the article. "That Free Marriage License Offered Yesterday Still Awaits One Who Makes First Proposal. More Offers Are Made! Minister Jones and Justice Will Make No Charge for Tying the Knot."

Beneath these lines were the material offers for the first bride who "popped" the question. The photographer offered to make free one dozen wedding photos, and to frame (in fumed oak or imitation mahogany) the marriage certificate; the horse and mule dealer offered a free mule (age not told); the coal man a ton of coal (actual weight); the furniture man, a bed (guaranteed first-hand).

"Ef I was a white woman I'd go out and tell dem folks I'd depoged marriage and been accepted by de man I loves," commenced Ishty. "Ef Thump could jest see I had a whole lot o' things fuh housekeepin', he'd run after me like a hound after de meat waggin', but I ain't! Oh, Miss Tessie, I jes' knows Anna Justice'll git him!"

Possessions! Oh, possessions! Theresa resolved that if she could not be happy because of them she would see that Ishty was not unhappy because of a lack of them.

"Ishty"—she touched the shaking mountain of misery—"if you'll promise me you won't shed another tear I'll have you married to Thumpus before tomorrow evening."

Ishty's face dried like a lime kiln.

Every business man of Ashton to whom pretty Theresa confided the fact that a friend (color not specified) had proposed marriage willingly, nay eagerly, promised something toward the setting up of the "friend's" household. And that same afternoon, with the mayor's heartily given permission, she hired Thumpus Cleaves to haul the gifts hauliable to the mayor's sixroomly finished barn.

By night the barn held a varied collection of physical necessities and some luxuries. The unusual appearance of some of the articles was due to camouflage, but in the main everything was new and first class.

Besides the fulfillment of the paper's printed offers there were one five-pound stick of peppermint candy, twenty pounds of sugar, six sacks of flour (wheat), three pails of lard (genuine hog), two boxes face powder (pink), one box of face paint, and one hair-curling iron, one washing machine and tubs, three fat hens and one rooster (age uncertain), one turkey (stunted), one cook stove, used (camouflaged by high coat of polish), donated by second-hand goods man; one copy "How to Be Happy Though Married" (old edition), a bridal bouquet of red roses stored in a crock of water.

There were other things—a great many other things—last of all a tombstone!

The restaurant man promised to send the next afternoon to the mayor's house cake and ice cream sufficient for the bridal couple and a dozen friends, and the mayor had agreed to set a table in his kitchen for the refreshments.

The mule dealer promised to have the gift mule hitched in the mayor's barn.

In the dusk Tessie came home with the bride's gift wedding dress and shoes, a bundle of white mohair brilliantine, and the largest pair of women's white kid slippers to be found in the city or out of it.

Ishty Matildy, in a daze of joy, submitted to the fitting of the white mohair, then mysteriously disappeared. An hour later she burst into Tessie's sewing room, her face working, her bosom one vast heave of joy.

"Thump's done accepted me, Miss Tessie! His eyes tuck in all what de merchants gwine gib me, and when I told him about de mule and de cyart he most th'owed a fit! He say de tombstone'll jest come in right to put at his fust wife's grave, and I told him I's shoah glad he kin use hit dat way. Thump say he been lovin' me all de time, only his mind been jest a little obscoured! Oh, Miss Tessie, I's so onspressible happified, my hide jest hardly will hold me! I wishes you was in de same fix as me!"

At ten that evening, after the last fitting of the white mohair, Ishty Matildy bore down upon the young lawyer's office.

"Is you a lovin' Miss Tessie Hollingsworth'?" she demanded, without preliminaries.

"I—I am!" Collins was surprised into confessing.

"Den whyn't you axin' her to marry you?" she demanded. "Da she is a lovin' you like a house afiah, and you a quittin' her on account of a few misabul old coppers! Be shamed! You otter be rejoicin' caze she's got dat money."

Collins reddened. "I—I am glad she's got it!" he stammered. "I am more than glad, Aunt Ishty."

"I mean you otta be glad for yoah wife to have hit," she went on. "Spozen you married and ten or twelve young uns been sent on you, and den you gits down and ups and dies! Wouldn't you look back and rejoice caze her and de young uns had somepin' to keep dey moufs a gwine wid? I hates to see Miss Tessie gwine down de incline she is on account o' yoah foolishness. Good evenin', suh!"

The next afternoon Park Collins stood on the Hollingsworth piazza, holding Theresa's hand and watching a wagonload of household furnishings go by.

Atop of the load sat Thumpus Cleaves, driving with one hand; the other arm was about what looked like a white-topped mover's wagon, a vast creature in a costume of shining white mohair. A bay mule tied to the wagon's tailboard slowly pulled forward the cart to which he was harnessed, his drooping lip touching now and then the "first wife's" tombstone.

Beauties of the Deep Sea.

A large number of fishes are phosphorescent. Some even bear in their heads searchlights like those of a motor car, which they can cause to shine at will. Others, lucky enough to possess a living bait attached to a long thread, light their lanterns and thus go fishing. But there are even more perfect representatives of this singular sort of fauna. Within their eyes, which are voluntarily extensible, like marine glasses, are set true lenses whose convexity varies according to the focus, while diverse colors shimmer in the sheaves of luminous rays which they project to a distance. The whole world of deep-sea life is illuminated by a fairy-light which it itself produces in default of solar rays. Very often, too, the inhabitants of those abysmal deeps glow with the most brilliant colors. There are fishes clad in azure velvet, crustaceans with cuirasses of opal or emerald, sea-urchins tinted with ruddy gold, of transparent vermilion, sponges reflecting the hues of the sapphire.

Harness Inner Forces.

Every man has inner forces that need harnessing. Every fellow that amounts to anything has imagination, enthusiasm, energy and the various ways in which it is expressed. Each of these is a great human power that needs harnessing. Left to run wild they develop abnormalities. Harnessed they make possible the increase of talents and the resultant benefits to mankind. Like horses, few men really take naturally to the harness. It has to be put on them. And even then they often try to get out of it. But the wise man knows that the harness now will mean comfort and happiness later. It will mean advancement and that by the easiest steps.

FARM POULTRY

WINTER GREENS FOR FOWLS

Cabbages, Turnips, Beets, Potatoes, Etc., Are Suitable Feeds for Cold Weather.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

If the best results are to be obtained with poultry they must be furnished with a plentiful supply of green feed. Where fowls have unlimited range on a farm they will secure green feed during the spring, but during the winter it must be supplied for them. The question of how to supply the best feed at the least cost is one that each poultry keeper must decide largely for himself. It will probably make but little difference what kind of green feed is supplied, provided it is relished by the fowls. Cabbages, turnips, beets, potatoes, etc., are suitable for this purpose. The larger roots and the cabbages may be suspended by means of a wire or string, or they may be placed on the floor, in which case it would be well to split the turnips or beets lengthwise with a large knife. Potatoes and turnips should be fed cooked. The mangel is an excellent root for feeding raw. Cut clover soaked in boiling water fed alone or with the mash is good. Clover meal and ground alfalfa make very good feeds for this purpose. Where the fowls are yarded and not enough green feed is furnished by the yard a small patch of clover, alfalfa or rape may be sown. Any one of these, if frequently mowed, will furnish a great quantity of green feed in a form which is relished by the fowls. Canada field peas may also be sown for this purpose, and when fed in a tender, crisp condition are eaten readily. Rye is a good crop for late fall and early spring, for it will germinate and grow in very cold weather and will live through the winter. As a general thing fowls should have once a day about all the green feed they will eat.

MILK AIDS EGG PRODUCTION

Value as Part of Poultry Ration Strikingly Demonstrated at Purdue University.

That milk has a value as a part of the poultry ration was strikingly demonstrated by the results obtained on one of the poultry demonstration farms which are established and conducted by Purdue university.

One farmer who had been feeding milk to his flock discontinued doing so with the arrival of the summer months thinking that the fowls would pick up enough insects to make up for the food value that was furnished by the milk. Almost immediately, however, his daily egg production began falling off until, in one month, it had dropped off to one-half what it had been for the month previous. When milk was again made a part of the ration, the daily egg production gradually increased. As a result of the milk fed, the production the following month was as good as in the spring months and the extra profit made more than paid for the milk fed.

MUCH DIFFERENCE IN CAPONS

Certain Standard Requirements Which Fowls Must Meet to Bring Highest Prices.

There is just as much difference in the quality of capons as of other meats. There are certain standard requirements which the birds must meet to bring the highest prices. Quality counts, but size as well as quality is required in capons.

POWDER IS ALWAYS IN ORDER

Dust Bath Is Essential in Ridding Fowls of Vermin—Whitewashing Is Effective.

The free use of an effective lice powder is always in order. A dust bath is very essential in ridding the fowls of lice. Whitewashing is effective against vermin. Use kerosene on the roosts and in the cracks to exterminate mites.

The Doorn Castle will give him more opportunity for freedom and he won't have to continue sawing logs for exercise. The Doorn property is also extremely well designed and ornamented. The picture displays one of the its numerous pagodas, this being the Tower of Doves, resting on whalebone piles.

AMERICAN LEGION NIGHT AT Y. M. C. A.

Members of the American Legion will be the "white haired boys" at the Y. M. C. A. on the evening of Friday, Dec. 19. Plans for an "open house" for their benefit at that time have been under consideration for some time and now the directors have enthusiastically approved them.

The Legion men will on that night be given the "run of the works" and urged to enjoy the gymnasium, bowling alleys, billiards and pool tables, chess, checkers and other games as well as the reading room, though the latter will probably be somewhat neglected by fellows who like plenty of action. There will also be speaking both by American Legion men and others.

Altogether it should seem quite like home that evening to the former "Loots," "Tops" and "Buck Privates," not to mention the deep seagoing members of the Veterans' organization who have spent many evenings in a "Y" atmosphere while in the service. The only thing missing will be the uniforms and the necessity of listening for "Taps."

WHICH SHALL IT BE?

Shall we have a small regular army and trust to luck that if we ever get into a war somebody will hold the enemy for a year or so while we frantically squander fifteen or twenty billion dollars getting ready?

Or shall we have a huge standing army that will cost a mint of money every year and result in the development of a militaristic class and spirit in the country?

Or shall we adopt a system of universal military training which not only will insure our national security but will be of untold benefit to the health, discipline, and patriotic spirit of every young man, rich or poor, in the country?

Marguerite Clark in "GIRLS"

The Greatest Attraction ever offered at Kingston's Palace of Amusement—No one can afford to stay away.

Clyde Fitch, the famous American play-wright, wrote this delightful comedy which was one of the stage successes of a season or two ago, and Marguerite Clark enacts the role of Pamela Gordon, who has vowed everlasting hatred of all men because a certain one whom she thought she loved had jilted her in her younger days. With two girl companions she forms a man-haters' club, and puts a sign above the door which reads, "no man shall cross this threshold." Of course you can picture the results when a man does. Delightfully entertaining, and full to the brim with fun and good clean, healthy comedy.

MORAN GETS VERDICT OF $200

By Direction of Judge Nichols—Saugerties Man Sued to Recover Commission on Sale of Brick—Court Takes Recess.

After hearing the testimony in the action brought by Edward Moran against Henry Corse of Saugerties, Judge Nichols directed a verdict in favor of plaintiff for the amount asked for in the complaint, $200.

Mr. Moran, who deals in real estate in the village of Saugerties, sued to recover $200 as commission on the sale of a quantity of brick on the Corse yards at Saugerties in July of the present year. Through Mr. Moran the sale of brick was concluded, a Mr. Solomon of Brooklyn buying the brick. Corse signed a contract on the day the sale was made offering $200 commission to Mr. Moran.

Defendant claimed that Mr. Moran had been paid by Mr. Solomon and could not recover two commissions on the sale of the brick, although the contract had been signed. Defendant claimed the contract was signed under threat of Mr. Moran to break up the deal if the contract was not signed by Corse. The agreed price of the brick was $3,500.

Mr. Moran received four checks for $75 each following the sale and also two checks for $50 each from Mr. Solomon. These checks the defendant claimed were paid as a commission for the sale but on the stand Mr. Solomon testified that the checks for $75 each were paid for labor which was required to load the brick on barges and send to New York. One of the $50 checks, he said, was paid for labor which Mr. Moran arranged for in repairing the tracks to run the cars over on the brick yard in loading. The second check for $50 was for services which Mr Moran rendered while Mr. Solomon was in New York city.

Grant M. Brinnier appeared for Mr. Moran and F. E. W. Darrow with Howard Chipp appeared for the defendant.

Following the conclusion of the case the jurors were excused until Monday afternoon.

LOTS OF CARS

For Ohio Miners and Half Normal Output Reached Today.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 12.—Early reports received from the mines of Ohio today indicated that a production of fifty per cent normal would be reached by nightfall.

Cutting on a quantity scale began last night and loaders and tipple men reported in large numbers at the mines today.

Plenty of cars were at the mines today to ensure rapid handling of all coal mined, reports to the Pittsburgh Vein Operators' Association indicated. Enough cars are in sight for Ohio mines to carry three days' maximum production, it was said.

Union leaders generally in Ohio today were bending every effort to get the men back to the mines. While first reports were to the effect that there were some recalcitrant locals in eastern Ohio, their leaders expressed the belief that all would be back at work by Monday.

Cut Metal With Smooth Disks.

Not so very long ago the discovery was made that metals could be sawed easier and quicker with rapidly revolving smooth disks of steel than with toothed circular saws. It was found that the cutting was done by the heat generated by the friction of the edge of the disk against the metal. The metal is melted at the point of contact while the rest of the disk, being cooled by the air, does not reach the melting point. The disks need no sharpening and do not wear out as quickly as the toothed saws heretofore used for cutting metal. The faster the disk revolves, the greater the amount of heat generated and the quicker the job.—Popular Science Monthly.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham Bonner

THE COW'S QUESTION.

"A number of cows were sitting down after the afternoon milking was over," said Daddy. "They were feeling comfortably lazy and were chewing their cuds happily.

"A cunning little indigo bird was sitting not far away singing such lovely little songs. But the cows didn't pay any attention. They didn't care much for singing, except their own kind. Of course their own kind couldn't be called singing. Bellowing would be the only suitable word for it.

"'That dog did hurry us up,' said Mrs Bossy Cow. 'He just made us hurry so fast. Of course it was milking time and we wanted to be milked, but my, what an impatient, quick sort of a creature is that dog.

"'Still I do like milking time, if only he would not hurry us quite so fast.'

"'Some cows must be quite wild,' said Miss Bossy Cow, 'when some have to have their horns taken from them.'

"'And some cows are very lovely and dainty,' said a black and white cow.

"'Black and white cows,' she continued, 'are especially good looking.'

"The rest of the cows smiled a little as they chewed.

"'We have a nice barn for the winter,' said Mrs' Bossy Cow. 'I do believe our barn is as nice as any to be found. It's much nicer than many a person's house I do believe. And besides it is nicer for a cow.

"'What would a cow do with a house and with a bed-room with a little narrow bed in it? That would be most awkward and uncomfortable, most.'

"What Would a Cow Do?"

"'Speaking of a house,' said Miss Bossy Cow, 'reminds me of such a funny thing I saw and thought yesterday.'

"'Dear me, you were pretty smart to be thinking and seeing at the same time. Just walking around is almost enough for me to do at a time without thinking too. Of course I can chew all the time,' Mrs. Bossy said, 'but thinking and seeing at the same time does sound rather smart.'

"'I don't know what made me feel so smart,' said Miss Bossy. 'Well, I must tell you what I saw and what I thought.

"'I was around by the back of the barn when I thought I would take a little walk. The gate into the field was open from the barnyard. That was nothing more than I expected, but I saw that the gate leading up to the farmer's house was open.

"'So I thought to myself that I would take a little stroll, or in other words a little walk.

"'I wandered up and the house looked quite deserted, that is it looked quite empty.

"'I looked in one of the windows, and gracious me, wasn't I disappointed at what I saw. One time Mrs. Bossy saw a bed airing and she has been thinking how absurd little beds were ever since. But I just saw an ordinary room. It had a carpet and some chairs, chairs such as a cow couldn't put her front feet in without upsetting.

"'There were some books around, silly little cushions and a table in the center with a lamp on it.

"'There was a stove in one corner of the room which I suppose they have kept over since last winter. And there were some foot-stools I believe they would be called, which would do for one foot of a cow!

"'But as I was seeing everything that is inside I thought to myself, "Gracious, imagine living where there is no grass." No there wasn't a scrap of grass in that house! and no hay either.

"'Oh, it was a wretched looking house, wretched, all curtains and rugs and chairs! Dear me, wasn't I glad then that I was a cow and so didn't have to live in there.'

"'I should think you would have been glad,' said Mrs. Bossy Cow.

"'Then,' continued Miss Bossy, 'one of the children came along and persuaded me to come back to the barnyard which I did and very willingly. The child asked me if I liked their house and I looked away as though I hadn't heard, for I didn't want to be rude. But oh, I have a question I don't believe anyone could answer, why, oh, why, don't they have grass in their houses? And no one could answer Miss Bossy's question."

He was born in the village of Palisades and lived there until he was twenty five. The next forty years of his life were largely spent in the cab of an Erie Railroad locomotive. He was the first engineer to run a regular train from Piermont to Port Jervis in the days when wood was used as fuel. Iseman was fond of telling how "Jim" Fisk and Josie Mansfield used to ride in his engine cab to Turners Station, where they frequently went for a day's outing.

SUGAR BOARD'S LIFE EXTENDED

Under Bill Passed By Senate—Amended to Abolish Zone System—Quick Passage By House Is Predicted.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 12—The McNary bill extending the life and power of the sugar equalization board for one year after January 1, 1920, so as to permit the government to deal with "sugar profiteers" and to supervise an equitable distribution of sugar at reasonable prices, was passed by the senate this afternoon without a roll call.

The bill now goes to the house. Passage of it by that body before congress takes it customary Christmas recess, beginning December 20, is planned.

The bill was so amended so as to abandon the zone system of sugar prices so as to require the equalization board to fix a uniform price of sugar throughout the country. The amendment was sponsored by Senator McKellar, Democrat, of Tenuessee.

WHAT GREASES THE SKILLYPOT CHAINS

Sewage in Rondout Creek Claimed to be Cause of Trouble for Ancient Craft—It Also Shines Up the Copper on the Hulls of the Tugs in the Creek.

The Skillypot, known far and wide as The Other Side, but rightfully named The Riverside, has been experiencing trouble for several months past with too much grease on the chain that hauls her from shore to shore by revolving around a big winding drum located in the interior compartment. The chain, when greasy, slips on the drum, making it hard to stop the carft as quickly as under ordinary conditions.

For years beyond the recollection of the oldest inhabitant the Skillypot has been plying her way back and forth across the Rondout creek, and even rumors of the building of the Sleightsburgh bridge have failed to stay her course. In fact the only thing that stops the Other Side is took thick ice in the creek, or a broken chain.

Those hardy passengers who tread her decks daily need fear no evil for even though the trusty chain is greased it fails to stop her operation, but makes a little extra work for the gallant crew.

Another phenomena that has been noticed by rivermen is the polishing of the copper hulls of the tugs that ply the Rondout creek. Take for instance the tug Rob. Her copper bottom is brightly polished, and shines like a bottle, to use an old expression.

Where does the grease come from is a question that naturally arises, and the answer, according to those who frequent the shores of the Rondout creek, is the sewage that is dumped into the creek from the big [illegible] There may be a shortage of sugar in Kingston, but there is no shortage of grease in the Rondout creek.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Larger Amount Than Usual Needed To Put Baskets of Dinner Out.

Tomorrow will surely announce the coming of the Christmas season. One of the infallible signs will make its annual appearance. In the morning when you come upon the streets, uptown, downtown or in the central part of the city, the familiar Salvation Army Christmas kettles will make their appearance and they will also be heard, for what is a kettle of this character without the tinkle of a bell. They will be manned by volunteer Salvation Army workers who will smile and gladly thank the many donors to be for all that they shall put in the pots. "Keep the pot boiling" will be a familiar slogan from now until Christmas, and it must be kept boiling if Captain Young is to give the usual number of Christmas baskets to families that are deserving. This year more than ever before will a Christmas basket be timely, for without this aid, a Christmas dinner would be a poor fare with a number of families. It isn't believed that any difficulty will be experienced in obtaining the money even if it is a larger sum than usual for this purpose. No other appeal will be made other than by the Christmas kettles placed on the streets, so whenever you see a white lined, green covered kettle swaying between bright red tripods, in charge of a Salvation lassie, smiling and tinkling a bell, just dig down and give, and give every time you see a kettle. They will stay out until the day before Christmas and everyone will have opportunity to give time and time again. You must not fail, or to use the famous "You must not pass" without doing more than your bit. It is planned to give about three hundred people complete Christmas dinners. This includes all the trimmings and by taking them home it costs a little more. The appreciation of the recipients for the pleasure of the home dinner is worth it. Should anyone have any vegetables, chickens, etc, they would like to donate for the dinners call up the officers' quarters, 1167—R, and let them know you have them so that they can depend upon that much.

KRIPPLEBUSH.

Kripplebush, Dec. 12.—Indications are that winter has at last arrived and this locality has been in the grip of a very severe cold wave.

People must now soon begin to prepare for the tax collector, as it is reported that taxes are very high.

Elmer Van Demark is sawing wood for people here.

The pupils of the district school were examined by Dr. Oliver on Friday.

Edward Hardenburgh of Kyserike is husking corn for the farmers in this vicinity.

Sugar is a scarce article here and flour is advancing in price. Some are asking where the sugar and flour are going now as war is over.

A number of the young people attended a party held at the home of George Christiana last Saturday evening and enjoyed themselves playing games until the early morning hours before they departed for their homes.

QUENTIN WAS NOT DESERTED

Two "Aces" Who Were in Squadron With Young Roosevelt Testify That Planes Were Separated for Own Safety When He Was Killed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The method of air fighting and not the desertion of his comrades caused the detachment of Quentin Roosevelt from his squadron at the time he was killed, according to the testimony of "Eddie" Rickenbacher and Major James R. Meissner, aces of the A. E. F., at the special house investigation into the expenditures in the war department.

Roosevelt was flying with seventeen comrades over German territory, Meissner said. The witnesses were not with young Roosevelt when he was killed, but testified as to the statements made by those who were in the squadron. Meissner said it is customary for members of a squadron to separate to avoid collision when in the clouds.

"This accounts for the many persistent rumors that Roosevelt was deserted by his comrades," Meissner said. "'After the cloud lifted, Roosevelt found himself in the midst of a squadron of German planes and was shot down after two minutes flight,'" Major Meissner said.

Lieutenant Maynard, "the flying parson," will testify before the committee later in the day.

MASON WOULD RECOGNIZE IRISH

Cohalan and Members of Irish "Government" Urge Passage of Appropriation for Consular Offices to "Republic."

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Irish partisans appeared here today before the house committee on foreign affairs in support of the resolution of Representative Mason of Illinois, appropriating $14,000 to provide pay for American consular offices to the republic of Ireland. The resolution is tantamount to recognition.

Representative Mason led the argument for its passage. He cited numerous instances where the United States had granted recognition to new governments, and said that such policy had been favored by Webster, Jefferson and Clay.

Applause greeted his assertion that "The new republic has a much stronger standing than nine-tenths of the republics we have recognized."

Others appearing before the committee were Judge Daniel F. Cohalan of New York, Judge James E. Deery, of Indianapolis, Professor Arthur Cope, of California, Harry Boland, secretary to "President" De Valera; Dr. Patrick McCarthan of the Irish parliament and Colonel John E. Milholland.

"We speak on behalf of 20,000,000 of your fellow citizens," said Cohalan.

Cohalan declared that there are two governments in Ireland today and that the British government is holding its place by a force "almost as big as England had at the front" during the war. He charged that England had followed a policy of tyranny and oppression of the people of Ireland.

"The republican government is functioning as far as any government can which is not in physical possession," he said.

R. R'S. SUBJECT OF CABINET TALK

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The railroad situation was taken up by President Wilson's cabinet today.

"We discussed the whole railroad situation," Secretary Lansing stated, but he refused to go into details.

The cabinet heard Director General Hines on the railroad situation and it is understood discussed recommendations to be made to the president before he sends his message on the railroads to congress.

There was no indication as to whether the cabinet had advised delay in returning the railroads to their private owners.

SELF-DENIAL MEANS SUCCESS

Much Food for Thought in Analysis of the Lives of One Hundred Average Men

The American Bankers' association has compiled and published the actual life experience of 100 men. It is an illuminating analysis of the good and bad fortune that come to the average of mankind. Here it is:

At age 22: 100 men all strong and vigorous with good mental and physical capacity.

At age 35: 5 have died; 10 are wealthy; 10 are in good circumstances; 40 have moderate means; 35 have saved nothing.

At age 45: 16 have died; 3 are wealthy; 65 are self supporting, but without resources; 16 are no longer self-supporting.

At age 55: 20 have died; 1 very wealthy; 3 are in good circumstances; 46 are self-supporting, but without means; 30 are dependent on children, relatives or charity for support.

At age 65: 36 have died; 1 very wealthy; 3 are wealthy; 6 self-supporting by labor; 54 are dependent on children, relatives or charity for support.

At age 75: 63 are dead; 60 of these left no estate; 3 are wealthy; 43 are dependent upon children, relatives or charity for support; 95 per cent of these will not leave sufficient means to defray funeral expenses:

In spite of all preaching, economy, and thrift are not common qualities. The large majority of men insist on living up to their income regardless of the amount of those incomes. Self-denial is a hard thing, yet self-denial nine times out of ten is the secret of substantial success.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

INSPIRED AT ODD MOMENTS

Brilliant Thoughts That Have Come to Men of Genius in Their Hours of Repose

There is a photograph, with which most of us are no doubt familiar, of Mark Twain at work in bed—holding his writing pad on his knees, and having the things he needed for his labor disposed about on tables on either side. But the idea of working in bed was not original with Mark. Many eminent men before him did the same thing, a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger says. Indeed, no, small part of the world's literary treasure has been produced between the sheets by physical indolent although mentally active men of genius.

One of the best known lines in English poetry came into its author's head when he was actually asleep. While visiting at Minto, Thomas Campbell one evening went to bed early, with his mind full of a new poem. About 2 o'clock in the morning he suddenly awakened repeating, "Events to come cast their shadows before." Ringing the bell sharply, he summoned a servant. The man found Campbell with one foot in bed and one on the floor.

"Are you ill, sir?" he asked.

"I was never better in my life," said the poet. "Leave the candle and bring me a cup of tea."

Seizing his pen he put down the happy thought, changing "events to come" into "coming events," and over the noninebriating cup, he finished the first draft of "Lochiel's Warning."

Twenty-Year-Old Trout.

The death has occurred in the south of Scotland of a trout which for twenty years had survived in a well. The fish was caught in an adjoining stream—the river Evan, a tributary of the Annan, near Moffat, and was placed in a well formed in a burn adjacent to a remote railway signal-box, a few miles north of Beattock, on the Caledonian main line. The signalman who at the time was in charge of the cabin took a lively interest in the fish as also did various engine drivers and other workers on that section of the line, when intervals permitted of their visiting the "aquarium," with its solitary occupant. The trout gradually became quite tame and docile, and was accustomed to swim boldly to the edge of the well to receive tit-bits from visitors, in the form of worms or insects suitable to its appetite.

Benighted Albania.

Albania hasn't a newspaper, a mile of steam railroad or a postal system.

Where Play and Air are Doctors

These tubercular children on the roof of the Vanderbilt Clinic had to be urged to leave their play long enough for the photographer to snap them. This is unusual, for most kiddies are always ready to have their pictures taken. The reason for their hesitation, in this instance, was a lesson in occupational therapy: the teaching of simple occupations to invalids.

The little ones are taught by volunteer worker of the Nat[illegible] League for Woman's Service the making of doll's houses [illegible] doll furniture. They've ma[illegible] expert mechanic out of Quirino, just as they have turned out thous[illegible] such heroes—better workers than ever in their lives before.

A Bit Late.

One can but sympathize with the commercial traveler, who, not knowing that the railwaymen were on strike, spent two days on the platform, at the end of which time he became somewhat irritated and remarked to a friend, "She's a bit late, isn't she, Herbert?"—London Punch.

Wouldn't Give Up Easily.

Mother was to entertain company, so Billy was put to bed earlier than usual. Billy resented this, and as an excuse said he didn't like to have the women see him in bed when they went upstairs to lay aside their wraps. Mother explained that as the women lived near by and because it was such a warm night the guests would come without hats or coats. It looked like bed for Billy, but as a last resort he said, "Oh, but, mother, surely they will wear their summer furs."

CENSUS TAKING BEGINS JAN. 2

Will Probably be Completed in Cities in About Two Weeks—Rural Enumeration Will Take Thirty Days.

Enumerators will begin taking the fourteenth decennial census of the United States on January 2, although January 1 has been designated as "Census Day." In cities it is expected that the population census will be completed in two weeks, while the enumeration of farms will take about thirty days. This census is the means by which the government ascertains the increase in population, the statistics concerning agriculture and the vital information concerning the resources of the nation.

All information that is gathered will be strictly confidential. The census information can not under any circumstance be used as a basis of taxation, nor can it be used to harm any person or his property. Some of the important questions that will be asked are:

1. Age at last birthday.

2. Each person ten years of age and over will be asked whether he is able to read or write.

3. Each person will be asked his birth place as well as the birth place of father and mother.

4. If foreign born, the date of coming to the United States will be asked, and, if naturalized, the date of becoming a citizen; also mother tongue or native language.

5. Each head of a family will be asked whether his home is owned by him or rented. If owned, whether the home is mortgaged or free of debt.

6. Each person will be asked his occupation and whether he is an employer or employe or is working on his own account.

The answers to these questions will give valuable and vital information to the government concerning the health, welfare and progress of the people.

Some of the questions that will be asked farmers are:

1—Each occupant of a farm will be asked how many years, if any, he worked on a farm for wages; how many years, if any, he was a tenant, and how many years, if any, he has farmed as an owner.

2—Whether he (a) owns or (b) rents or (c) partly owns and partly rents his farm or whether (d) he operates the farm for others as a manager or superintendent.

3—How many acres on his farm? Number of improved acres? Number of unimproved acres and number of acres of woodland?

4.—Total value of farm? Total value of buildings? Value of implements and machinery on farm?

5—Whether farm is mortgaged? If so, the amount of mortgage

6—Expense for feed, fertilizer and labor in the year, 1919.

7—Several questions concerning artificial drainage on his farm.

8—Number of cows, horses, sheep, chickens, and other domestic animals on the farm January 1, 1920.

9—Quantity and acreage of all crops grown on the farm in 1919, including fruits and vegetables.

10—Quantity of milk and butter sold off the farm during the year, 1919.

11—Acreage of timber land on farm and value of forest products.

Census enumerators will carry identification cards as well as written commissions. These will be shown promptly on the request of any person. It is against the federal law to impersonate a census official and impostors should be reported to the authorities.

MANY BABIES.

French Campaign To Raise Birth Rate Brings Results.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Dec. 12.—For the first time in years the Paris birth rate is exceeding the death rate. This is due to the large number of marriages immediately after the war. Statistics made public today show that the births last week were 1,015 against 770 deaths. The maternity hospitals are overcrowded and it is necessary to place cots in the corridors. Leaders of the "more babies" campaign are urging the government to take immediate steps to provide more hospitals.

Wrote 10,000 Love Letters.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Dec. 12.—A record for courtship love letters was revealed in the Southwark county court when Miss Maud Birchall testified that her former lover, William George Cooke, a demobilized soldier, had sent her 10,000 tender missives. Cooke sued to recover a diamond ring and brooch he had given Miss Birchall before she jilted him.

THAT NEW SUIT FOR WINTER!

Advantages and Disadvantages in Having It Ready-Made or Made to Order.

There are possible advantages in going to a tailor and having your suit made to order and just as many possible advantages in buying it ready made. With the ready-made suit there is always this:

You can see the finished garment. There is never the possibility that you won't like it after it is finished, for it is finished to begin with. Moreover, if you are a person whose time is precious, the ready-made suit has advantages in that way. Even if it needs rather elaborate alterations you will need far less fitting than if you are having it made entirely to order. And of course, the ready-made suit, if you buy a good one from a smart shop, has probably been made according to the design of a very skilled and highly paid person, whereas your tailor may or may not have the eye of a real designer and he may or may not follow skillfully the lines of the design you select for him. However, if you are blessed with a good figure the tailor will reveal the fact as the ready-made suit cannot possibly do, even if it is altered, for it is necessary to make ready-mades according to designs that do not as a rule play up the figure. They must be built for the average figure and built according to lines that require the least possible fitting.

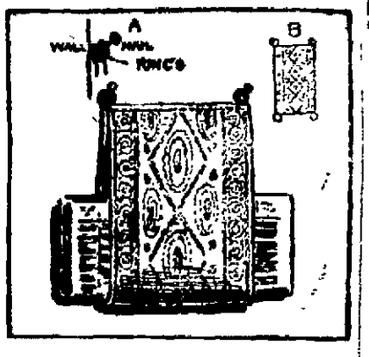
If you do go to the tailor bear this in mind: That for this winter suits made of heavy men's suit fabrics are going to be extremely smart. Select such a fabric that shows a decided stripe—one that would probably not be the one you would choose for your husband or son, because the stripes should be quite far apart and quite noticeable. A suiting of dark slate gray with a lighter gray stripe is a splendid selection. Now have the bodice pieces of the pattern cut lengthwise of the stripe with a tunic on the jacket cut the other way of the material. Or in some such way as this make use of the striping to give the suit its only trimming.

TO MAKE NEWSPAPER HOLDER

Remnant of Narrow Stair Carpet May Be Easily Made Into Decorative Article.

The sketch shows a good use to which a remnant of narrow stair-carpet may be put, in the way of making a newspaper holder with it for hanging upon the wall. If possible, the carpet should be selected of a color to match or harmonize with the wallpaper upon which it is to hang.

The edges where the carpet has been cut are bound with colored braid.



An Easily-Made Newspaper Holder.

and at each corner a ring is sewn on in the manner shown in sketch B. Then nails are driven into the wall at a distance apart corresponding with the width of the carpet, and they should slant slightly upwards in the way illustrated in diagram A.

The rings are placed upon the nails so that the carpet hangs downwards and forms a large loop, into which the papers may be slipped from either side. All tidy housewives like a place to keep papers in, so that they do not litter the room, and this is just the thing needed, as it is strong and practical.

DRESSES NOW MADE OF KID

Whole Sport Outfits Made of the Material and Some Have Leather Ornamentation.

The increasing use of kid and other soft leathers for the making and trimming of women's garments is bringing up the question here as to what effect it will have on other lines. Latest fashion reports from Deauville say that whole sport dresses made of colored kid were worn at the recent races there, and the Paris cables tell of leather dewdabs on many of the new frocks, says the New York Times. In view of the reported general scarcity of kid, which there is no reason to doubt, the question has arisen as to just what effect this vogue will have on the supply available for the glove and shoe trades. It is also noted if the use of colored outer garments of kid will bring about a revival of the tan-colored kid shoes that were so much in vogue here a few years ago, and also serve to increase the color ranges of kid glove offerings in the near future.

Coats for Fall.

Some Paris-designed models of fall and winter coats for 1919 and 1920 are in the showrooms of American manufacturers and tailors. The indications are that plaids will be very much featured. Double-faced fabrics, plain on one side and plaid on the other. Golf cloths of several seasons ago, are used to develop some very modish coats.

This photograph shows former Mayor Edward L. White, of Hammonton, N. J., father of the suspect under arrest in connection with the death of "Billy" Dansey. In the centre is shown "Bunny" White, playmate of "Billy," and at the right is Charles L. White, father of "Bunny," who is being held by the Hammonton authorities. The Whites own and operate a dahlia farm at Hammonton alongside the home of the Danseys. A theory of the police is that a thrown missile struck "Billy" Dansey in the abdomen, causing his death. The police also believe that the body was hidden during the search and later taken to the swamp where it was found. Mrs. Edith James, housekeeper for the Whites, is also being held. The case has aroused interest throughout the country.

THREE 8 ROUND BOUTS DEC. 18

Kingston Athletic Club Has Booked Star Boxing Card, With Some of Fastest Fighters to be Seen in Action—Should Have Record Attendance.

Thursday evening, December 18, the Kingston Athletic Club will hold another smoker in Griffiths's Hall on lower Hasbrouck avenue and the best boxing card of the season will be offered the fight fans of the city and vicinity. The local club is the first club to stage three star eight round bouts between fast fighters, and that is the offering for December 18.

James V. Brienza and B. Miller of Newark, N. J., have decided to put Kinston once and for all firmly on the boxing map, and working with the local officials have arranged the card for the next smoker.

The star eight round bout will be between Joe Forgione of Newark and Teddy Hobbs of Pittsburgh, Pa. Forgione has held his own with such fast men as Matt Herbert, Bobby Michals and Joe Leonard. These boys have fought ten round bouts at the Hustler A. C. in Poughkeepsie this fall.

Young Jack Dempsey of Newark, who staged one of the best fights seen in Kingston, will step eight rounds with Jimmy Vallon, also of Newark. Both men are extremely fast, and this should prove one of the best bouts of the season.

The third eight round set-to will be between Al Belmont of Newarkk and another fast boy, whose name will be announced later.

A glance at the above card will convince the fight fans that this should prove the best card so far offered by the club. It will give them an opportunity of seeing some of the best men from New Jersey in action.

If the fight fans of the city desire to see fast fights staged here they should help support the club. Tickets may not be obtained.

The club is planning to match some of the local fighters for New Year's afternoon.
